CLARK NOMINATED ON 43RD. BALLOT

Selected by Sixth Destrict Democrats to Succeed Godwin.

INSURGENT CONVENTION HELD

Godwin Forces Continue the Fight—Wrangle Over the Chairmanship—Stormy Session and Police Intervention.

After one of the most turbulent conventions in the history of the Sixth district, the Democratic Congressional Convention in session at Wrightsville Beach, this morning at 1:35 o'clock, nominated Hon. O. L. Clark, of Bladen county, to succeed Congressman Hannibal L. Godwin, of Harnett. The nomination came after the Godwin forces for the most part had withdrawn and at 2 o'clock this morning are holding another convention, Chairman Geo. H. Bellamy, who had been deposed by the executive committee, during the recess for dinner, presiding. Mr. Fefel, of Southport, was requested to act as secretary. The Godwin convention was in progress this morning as the Star went to press with what result it is impossible at this hour to tell

Morning Session.

The storm broke loose immediately after the convention was called to order by Chairman Geo. H. Bellamy, of the Congressional Executive Committee and the roll of counties was called to ascertain if all were represented. Maj. Terry A. Lyon, of Cumberland, was asked to act as temporary secretary and when he had completed the call, all counties being represented by full delegations, J. C. Clifford, of Harnett, challenged the entire delegation from Cumberland, which had seats immediately in front of the stand, this ostensibly being on the ground, as it later developed, that the delegates from Cumberland were appointed instead of elected as provided for in the plan of organization. The Cumberland delegates were at once up in arms and no one could be heard. The various delegates then went at it hammer and tongs, the Godwin forces in support of Clifford and the anti-Godwin delegates strongly opposed. It was impossible for any one to be heard but finally Hon. John D. Bellamy was recognized. He said that he did not wish to take any part in the acrimonius debate but his love for the chairman, as his own brother, and his love for the Democratic party and principles impelled him to warn the presiding officer that he had best be cautious in his rulings; that you cannot deprive any county of its legal representation in a Democratic convention. If the county was not properly represented it was with the credentials committee entirely to say. If a protest against Cumberland was presented, it should be referred to the committee. That would be Democratic; it was parliamentary law. He pleaded with the chair to proceed cautiously, legally and in order. If there was any appeal from the committee on credentials let it be settled on the floor.

Mr. Clifford said the remarks of Mr. Bellamy would be proper if the certificates of the Cumberland delegation did not show on its face that the delegates were not properly chosen. He proposed to show that the plan of organization had been cooly and deliberately violated for the purpose of overruling the people of Cumberland. This brought forth a shout from Mr. W. D. Gaster: "You're a coward when you state that about Cumberland county." Numerous voices asked Mr. Clifford to "Sit down," but he declined to assume a sitting posture.

The chairman then ruled that upon the face of the returns from Cumberland they showed an irregularity and that the county did not proceed to elect as laid down by the Democratic plan of organization.

H. L. Lyon, of Columbus, was immediately on his feet and moved that the chair be declared vacant and ex-Congressman G. B. Patterson be made chairman. There were great shouts from the anti-Godwin forces. Mr. Patterson was brought forth but it was some time before he could be heard. The chairman stated that he was going to hold the temporary organization until a permanent chairman was elected. Lyon then moved that Patterson be made permanent chairman. Mr. Patterson craved to be heard and F. H. Stedman, of Cumberland, begged him to yield for a moment. Mr. Patterson declined and ascended the press table as the only means of getting himself in shouting distance of the hub-bub. At this juncture, ex-Sheriff McLeod arose and heatedly exclaimed "If you want to put him out, God d—n you, get at it!" Mr. Patterson was at length heard and stated that the convention was about to do an unseemly thing. He was interrupted by Mr. McLeod to apologize for his language before the convention but Mr. Patterson said no apologies were necessary and continued to show what the plan of organization provides. The chair he opined had made an egregious mistake in his ruling. He believed that he would see his mistake and change the ruling as he had confidence in the chair. The same point as made by Mr. Clifford could be made as to

COTTON FRAUDS ARE CHARGED

Two Members of Bankrupt Steele-Miller Company Arrested—McKnight and Miller Under Bond—Bills of Lading.

Birmingham, Ala., July 21.—James I. McKnight was arrested in Birmingham tonight by a United State deputy marshal and later released on $15,000 bond. At the same time John H. Miller was arrested in Decatur and taken to Huntsville to make bond. Both men were members of the bankrupt cotton firm of Steele-Miller Company, of Corinth, Miss., and they are charged with sending forged bills of lading through the mails. Warrants are also out for L. C. Steele and Gustav Linde, the other two members of the firm.

The Steele-Miller Company failed soon after the Knight, Yancey Company failure, the firms having had close business relations. The two arrests tonight are the first criminal actions taken in the cotton failures which caused such a sensation two months ago. The combined amount involved in the two failures was nearly $8,000,000.

It is alleged in the warrant against members of the Steele-Miller Company that forged bills of lading or fraudulent drafts were mailed to F. Van-Griper and Company, of New York. They are formally charged with having "designed by fraud or artifice to defraud persons of their money and property in violation of sections four and 215 of the criminal code of the United States."

The witnesses summoned by the government in the present cases are F. VanGriper, of New York; Bernard Ehrhart, of Bremen, Germany; E. S. Elliott, of Memphis, and W. C. Watson, postoffice inspector.

MOB GATHERED IN NEWBERRY.

Would Lynch White Man in South Carolina Town.

Newberry, S. C., July 21.—While a mob bent upon lynching Thomas Yarborough, a white farmer, aged 45, was gathered early this morning near Silver Stream, this county, the intended victim was spirited away by a deputy sheriff, placed aboard a train and taken to the State penitentiary at Columbia for safe keeping.

The lack of a leader is all that prevented the mob carrying out its designs before the deputy sheriff arrived on the scene.

Yarborough, who is now living with his third wife, is accused of having attempted to criminally assault the 7-year-old daughter of a neighboring farmer. The alleged crime occurred three weeks ago, but only yesterday became known.

BALL PLAYERS CLASH.

Fisticuff Between Two National League Men.

St. Louis, Mo., July 21.—Pitcher Arthur Raymond and Manager McGraw, of the New York Nationals clashed here this afternoon and the pitcher is suffering from a discolored optic as a result. When he reported at the ball park his appearance displeased McGraw, who ordered him to remove his uniform.

Raymond refused and a mix-up precipitated by McGraw followed from which Raymond emerged second best. Later he removed his uniform and left the club house.

Insurance Agent Committed Suicide in Fountain—Diamond Expert Took $800 in Valuables—Another Fleeces People.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., July 21.—John Morrison, aged 72, an insurance agent, committed suicide some time last night by drowning himself in four feet of water in the fountain in the rear of the Court House lot. He was in ill health. Surviving him are a widow and sister.

A Jew named Ginsberg is badly wanted by the police here on the charge of larceny of $800 in diamonds from Finklestein's pawn shop late yesterday. Ginsberg, who was here for his health, was a diamond expert at the pawn shop and was entrusted to take the diamonds to Battery Park, where he claimed he had customers. Finklestein offered $100 reward. When last heard from he was on his way to Atlanta.

A. Lincoln West, president and promoter of West Pulverizing Machine Company, a new plant which he was going to build here jumped town late yesterday leaving behind some $2,000 in debts. Leaving the train at Black Mountain he went across the mountains to Rutherford thence to Marion, where he was captured this morning, and later released when he paid up arrest and bail proceedings. He is now wanted on the charge of giving alleged worthless checks. He lived high life here and cut wide swaths. Attempts to unload stock here proved fruitless.

FUGITIVE CRIPPEN MAY BE CAPTURED

Much Sought Wife-Murderer Seen by Police Fleeing Through France.

VIGOROUS SEARCH IS MADE

Police in Village Near Paris Declare He Visited Their City Last Sunday—Procurer Is Positive of Identity—The Typist.

Paris, July 21.—The police at Vernets-Les-Bains, the little French watering place at the foot of the Pyrenees mountains, are positive on their belief that Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, widely sought by the London police was in their city last Sunday and a vigorous search is being made for the fugitive.

The procurer at Vernets-Les-Bains telegraphed today to the director of the Surete Generale at Paris confirming the identity of the man who arrived there under the name of Tarbot on Sunday as Dr. Hawley H. Crippen. The procurer added that he believed Crippen had crossed the French frontier into Spain.

The French detective department in Paris is inclined to accept the procurer's view as to the identity of Crippen, but is in doubt whether he crossed the Spanish frontier at Vernets-Les-Bains, as all the positive information in the possession of the police indicates that he left the train before it reached Mont Louis to which points he is said to have taken passage en route to Spain.

The suspect, according to the belief of the authorities here, instead of making for Spain is headed for Andora, the little and almost forgotten republic of eight thousand shepherd inhabitants, nestling in the foot-hills of the Pyrenees.

M. Sebille, head of the research department of the police, who is directing the search in France for Dr. Crippen and his typist Ethel Clara Lenesne, who is supposed to have left London in his company, opposes the theory that the woman who killed herself at Bourges July 13th, was Miss Leneve. He says that the letter left by the suicide was written in French, a language Miss Leneve is said to be totally unacquainted with. Furthermore the suicide's features were those of a person of a Slavonic type and that Sebille believes that she was a Nihilist.

Photographs of the Bourges suicide have not, however, as yet been compared with those of Miss Leneve. Should the suicide prove to be Miss Leneve, it would give consistency to the story told by a guard on the boat Paris that he had seen a couple answering the description of Dr. Crippen and his typist on July 12th. According to this guard the couple came through to Paris on his train. Here there are supposed to have separated, Crippen hurrying South and the girl going to Bourges where she subsequently took her life.

Another theory of the police is that the couple went by steamer to Marseilles and separated at that port.

Paris, July 22.—A special to Matin from Vernets-Les-Bains says that acting to a telephonic message received there a man answering the description of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen wanted in London in connection with the disappearance of his wife, Belle Elmore, was seen at Puigcerda, a town just across the frontier in Spain Wednesday night.

UNABLE TO GET VESSELS.

For Service Between New Orleans and Nicaragua.

New Orleans, July 21.—All efforts to secure vessels for service between this port and Bluefields, Nicaragua, have failed, according to an announcement made at the offices of the Bluefields Steamship Company here tonight. With three of its steamers tied up here as a result of the order of the Norwegian government, recognizing Bluefields as a closed port of entry, the Bluefields Steamship Company has tried every means possible to procure one or more steamers of some other than Norwegian register to engage in the New Orleans-Nicaraguan trade.

Tonight the Hiram, one of three steamers which has been tied up as a result of Norway's practical recognition of the Madriz government, cleared for Ceiba, Honduras. Before its departure, 124 cases of ammunition which had been put on board for conveyance to Bluefields, were unloaded. The Hiram wil take on a cargo of fruit at Ceiba and will proceed from there to Mobile.

The suspension of all traffic between New Orleans and Bluefields, following the instructions of the Norwegian government, may result in serious consequences to the Estrada forces. Gen. Richard Sussman, nominal consul of the Estrada government at New Orleans, asserts, however, that the insurgent forces are plentifully supplied with supplies and ammunition.

Pittsburg, July 21.—George Watson, Jr., the wealthy New York horse breeder and sportsman, died at the homeopathic hospital at 10:40 o'clock tonight from injuries received recently when thrown from his mount.

STRIKE DANGER IS NOW PASSED

Canadian Pacific Had Definite Agreement With Its Employes.

SITUATION ON GRAND TRUNK

Nothing Gained Yesterday by Discussing Arbitration—Developments Unimportant—Company Improved Its Service.

Montreal, July 21.—All possibility that the conductors and trainmen of the Canadian Pacific Railway would strike was removed tonight when a definite agreement was reached between the company and the men. Messrs. Leonard and McTier represented the company and Vice President Murdock and a committee represented the men. The gist of the decision is that the standard rate of pay for the territory east of Chicago is recognized by the company.

That of the company was mailed to the minister at Ottawa, but Mr. Hays declined to say what it was. Vice President Murdock, who sent the reply for the trainmen, used the telegraph and gave out the document soon after.

Mr. Murdock frankly confessed that he does not believe that there is anything to be gained by discussing arbitration, and points out that the men have offered to submit to arbitration, the arbitrators to be E. E. Clark, of the United States Interstate Commerce Commission, and P. H. Morrissey, president of the Railway Employes Association, who arbitrated the same question in the case of some 14 roads in the same territory. The Grand Trunk refused to accept this, says Mr. Murdock, and adds that the men are still willing to renew the offer even though the time appeared to have passed when arbitration should be considered.

On Murdock's telegram a prominent Grand Trunk official made this comment.

"They want to arbitrate if they are permitted to name the arbitrators and fix the award in advance."

Though the reply of the men is not encouraging, it is believed that the Minister of Labor will continue his conciliatory efforts.

Outside of the arbitration talk today the strike developments were not important. The company has improved its passenger train service and also started handling freight in a small way. It is securing some men but at the present rate it will be weeks before service is back to normal.

MURDERER CAPTURED

Taken at Wadesboro Yesterday—Had Thrilling Experience.

Wadesboro, July 21.—Chief of Police Ashcraft, at Marshville, found Claude Thomas, the murderer of Mr. J. M. Sing, of MacFarlan, at the Seaboard Air Line work train near Marshville this morning and attempted to arrest him. Ashcraft was alone and another negro was with Thomas. Thomas made his escape. Ashcraft fired fifteen shots at him. The companion negro was arrested. Sheriff Martin went immediately to Marshville in automobile and is now enroute here with the captured negro. Deputy Sheriff Giff Martin has gone to the scene with bloodhounds and will take up the trail of Thomas.

A telephone message from Macfarlan received at noon states that the sheriff of Marlboro county, S. C., with a posse has captured two suspected negroes surrounded in four miles of swamp and he thinks one is the Thomas negro, wanted for the murder of Marshal J. M. Sing, of MacFarlan. The sheriff's posse is making every effort to get the men. Reports from Marshville state that the posse is close on the trail of the suspect there.

CHAPEL HILL BANK CLOSED.

Examiner Found People's Bank in Crippled Condition.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 21.—The doors of the People's Bank at Chapel Hill were closed by State Bank Examiner Doughton today on an order of the Corporation Commission, until a receiver can be appointed, which will be tomorrow probably. An examination revealed a crippled condition through bad loans and shortages. The assets are $38,610; deposits $23,894, and loans $34,144. According to the last quarterly report. The officers are J. D. Webb, president, and W. H. Hathcock, cashier.

It was found on examination that bad loans and notes amounting to some $9,000 had wiped out the capital stock of $5,000 and that there was no surplus or undivided profits. There was about $25,000 in deposits and a large part of this will be lost to depositors.

EXPLOSION DEALS DEATH TO ELEVEN

Fort Monroe Scene of Horrible Accident During Target Practice.

BREECH OF GUN BLEW OUT

Officers Unable to Determine Direct Cause of the Accident—Seven Soldiers Seriously Injured. An Inquiry Ordered.

Fortress Monroe, Va., July 21.—Eleven men of the coast artillery are dead tonight as the result of the blowing out of the breech lock in one of the big guns while the fort was engaged in target practice. A half dozen others are in the post hospital. The exact cause of the explosion is not yet definitely determined, although a board of inquiry was appointed immediately after the disaster by orders from the War Department in Washington.

The list of dead and wounded follows:

Sergeant Harry H. Ness, Charleston, W. Va.; Corporal Charles O. Adkins, Cincinnati, O.; Corporal Albert Bradford, Dorothy, W. V.; Private Roy Duffey, Naugatuck, W. Va.; Private John W. Chadwick, Tazewell, Tenn.; Private Clive W. King, Dayton, O.; Private Alfred W. Smith, New York, N. Y.; Private Andy J. Sullivan, Perkins, Ky.; Private Judd E. Hogan, Jeyer, O.; Private James E. Turner, Ripley, Tenn.; H. Adey.

Probably fatal injured: Private Areley Adey, Brandonville, W. Va.; Slightly injured: Lieutenant George L. VanDeusen, Passaic, N. J.; Private Ellsworth W. Hoffman, Pittsburg, Pa.; Private Charles E. Parks, Menominee, Mich.; Private William C. Sulzberger, Fort Monroe.

The toll of death, it is believed, would have been larger had it not been for the heroism displayed, both by the officers and men in the battery. The wounded forgot their hurts and aided the uninjured in stamping out the burning powder that threatened the sacks in which the charge for a second snot had been brought up.

The explosion took place in Battery DeRussy, No. 1 gun doing the damage. The gun was in charge of Captain James Prentice, who had with him Lieutenant George P. Hawes, Jr., and George L. VanDeusen. Lieutenant Hawes had gone forward from the breech to examine the range when the charge was exploded. He was thrown down and momentarily stunned, but otherwise was uninjured. In the thick heavy smoke the scene was a most indescribable one. Eight men were killed outright, their bodies lying scattered around the empiacement. Under the pall the wounded writhed and moaned. Captain Prentice and Lieutenant Hawes foresaw a further sacrifice of life if the other charges caught from the smoldering sparks and the two sent out a call for surgeons while they attacked the flames with their bare hands.

Captain Prentice reached the emplacement first and before looking into the extent of the damage, he pushed his way through the smoke and sparks and carried out a bag of powder. He then was joined by Hawes, and the two completed the task of averting a further explosion.

During this time Lieutenant VanDuesen lay crumpled beneath the gun his leg broken in two places. He was suffering agonies, but when his brother officers sought to remove him he would not permit them to touch him.

"See to the men first," he ordered, and puropped against the gun carriage, he aided in directing the work of the rescue party and the surgeons.

Corporal Humphreys and Sergeant Brinkley, a gun pointer, also distinguished themselves. The former's head, body and arms were filled with pieces of flying concrete that had been blown from the emplacement when the explosion came. In spite of his painful wounds, he rushed to his dead and wounded comrades, extinguished their burning clothing and then hurried to the nearby encampment for water.

Sergeant Brinkley was close to the breech when it blew out. He was hurled over the sight standard and, when he regained consciousness, found himself hanging by one arm from the railing of the sighting platform. Although severely bruised and suffering from the shock, Brinkley declined to go to the hospital or permit the surgeons to examine him until after he had assisted in the work of rescue.

Colonel C. P. Townsley, commandant of the Fort, promptly ordered an investigation. Colonel Townsley advanced this theory of the disaster:

"It is evident," he said, "that the explosion occurred during the insertion of the breech block into the breech of the gun and before it had been rotated and locked in place. The safety device on the guns are intended to make a premature discharge impossible. Just how they failed to operate probably never will be known to a certainty. Every member of the detachment who could explain it was killed."

The inquiry, however, is to be thorough. Assisting in the investigation are some of the leading officers of the army, who were present at the time of the explosion. Among them are General Crozier chief of ordnance of the army; General Carter, assistant chief of staff; General Murray, chief of coast artillery and General Baxby, chief of engineers.

The fatal accident occurred during

HISTORIC BATTLE OF MOORE'S CREEK

Notable Revolutionary Event Impressively Celebrated at Currie Yesterday.

ATTENDANCE OF 3,000 PEOPLE

Inspiring Addresses by Lieut. Governor W. C. Newland and Dr. John M. Faison—Occasion Was Great Success.

(Staff Correspondence.)

Currie, N. C., July 21.—Lieutenant Governor W. C. Newland, of Caldwell county, and Dr. John M. Faison, of Duplin county, Democratic nominee for Congress, were the speakers today at the annual celebration at Moore's Creek Battle Ground. It is estimated that 3,000 people attended, including several hundred from Wilmington. The train which left the city yesterday morning on the A. & Y. division of the Atlantic Coast Line was made up with eight coaches crowded, the leaving of the train having been delayed 30 minutes on account of the rush for tickets.

The train was delayed in its arrival at Currie, 18 miles from Wilmington, and in waiting there were scores of phaetons, buggies and all kinds of vehicles to convey the hundreds of visitors to the battleground about a mile distant. The local people took care of the crowds in quite a satisfactory way, and when the Wilmington contingent arrived they swelled the great crowds from Pender, Bladen, Sampson and Columbus counties, who had come by private conveyances and by rail. Altogether it was a splendid lot of people, including hundreds of ladies from the city and all over the country. The clouds lowered, but very fortunately the event passed off without rain, scoring one more big success for the Moore's Creek Battleground Association.

The grounds were in gala day attire, the National and State colors being in evidence, while the commodious pavilion was decorated with national bunting. Headed by President James F. Moore, of the association, the committee of arrangements was on hand to give a cordial greeting and warm welcome for all comers. Besides Mr Moore, the committee was composed of that elegant and popular gentleman, Dr. George F. Lucas, and prominent citizens, including Messrs. J. F. Simpson, J. E. Henry, M. M. Bullard, A. C. Ward and J. E. DeVane. President Moore, whose courtesy is only equalled by his activity, managed the celebration, and he did it with the cleverness and success that always attends his enthusiastic efforts in behalf of the big celebrations that have now become such an annual feature at the scene of one of the notable battles of the war for American Independence.

At 11:15 A. M. the exercises peculiar to the celebrations began, with the pavilion crowded with people and the open space around it overflowing with spectators. The Delgado Band of Wilmington, furnished music throughout the exercises. President Moore presided and welcomed the assemblage in the happy manner peculiar to him. (His welcoming address appears elsewhere in today's Star.)

President Moore's address was punctuated with applause by his appreciative auditors and upon conclusion of his remarks an inspiriting selection was played by the Delgado Band, which went up from Wilmington. President Moore then introduced North Carolina's distinguished Lieutenant Governor, the Hon. W. C. Newland, of Lenoir, a lawyer and Democratic politician known all over North Carolina, esteemed everywhere for his ability, striking manliness and great devotion to the Old North State.

In a speech occupying about 40 minutes in its delivery, the Lieutenant Governor won at once the favor of the audience and held its appreciative attention from beginning to end. His eloquent words were frequently applauded and the popular State official made a lasting impression upon all who heard him. Mr. Newland expressed his appreciation of the honor paid him by the invitation of the people of Pender to be the speaker on this historic spot, and paid glowing tribute to the people of the Cape Fear region to whom, he said, he owed a debt of gratitude and allegiance. He married a Wilmington lady, Miss Jessie Henry, and to her, he declared, he owed more than to all else for shaping his life and for whatever success he has achieved in his career. He was proud, therefore, that he was connected with the patriotic and splendid people of the Cape Fear.

Mr. Newland paid special tribute to the splendid citizenship of Pender and declared that his county owed a great debt of gratitude to that county for contributing to his county the Rev. D. P. McGeachy, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Lenoir, and Mr. Y. P. Moore, superintendent of public instruction in Caldwell county. These two sons of Pender have been instrumental in lending to Caldwell an influence that makes the obligations of the latter county lasting. Many humorous sallies were made by the speaker in his introductory, but no portion of his speech was more interesting and more deeply appreciated than his reference to the historic bat-

Hits Were Even, But Locals Had Big End of Error Column—Stoehr and Griffin in Fine Form.

The Sailors and the Railroaders went together on the local lot yesterday and played a really interesting game, the score board at the finish showing a long row of goose eggs to the credit of the locals, while Rocky Mount was chalked up a lone run in the third inning. Stoehr and Griffin were the opposing artists on the twirling stunt and played star ball, yielding only three hits each, and but for the three errors credited to the Sailors, it would have been as pretty an exhibition of the game as has been seen here this season. Tydeman featured with the bat, poling out a long one against leftfield fence that was almost good for three bases. This was in the seventh division and it looked favorable for the locals as he was the first man up, but Howard and Burke, who followed him, ethered, and Kite was out on first.

In the third frame after Dussault was out short to first, and Griffin had skied to Hanks, Gillespie singled over short and was advanced to second when Forgue was hit by pitched ball. Ohl, the next man up hit safe to left scoring Gillespie, and went to second himself on the throw-in to plate, and Forgue was safe on third, but Creagan ended the run getting when he was out on first, short to first.

In the sixth inning it looked like score number two for the visitors, when Creagan first up, singled to centre and was sacrificed by Schuman. Gastmeyer was safe on first by wild throw of Cooper, but Tydeman got the ball in time to catch Creagan on close decision at the home plate. Gastmeyer stole second, but Phelan was out to second.

SAILOR CRAFT IS FOUNDERING.

Unless Reorganized Before Tomorrow the Team Will Disband.

The baseball situation came to a crisis yesterday morning when Manager Smith being unable to pay the players the back salary due, they refused to play the series here with Rocky Mount, and for a few hours it seemed that the baseball season was over so far as Wilmington was concerned, but about noon "Bill" Struthers took things in hand and after holding a confab with several of the players they decided to play the series off under the management of Mr. Struthers, the entire proceeds of the four games to go towards paying the players the money they have already earned. In the meantime Mr. Struthers and several other true blue fans are making a last strenuous effort to organize a stock company to take over the franchise, as outlined in the Star several days ago. They now have in hand a good portion of the stock subscriptions, and will make a thorough canvass of the business district today in hopes that enough public spirited men will be found to save Wilmington from the lasting disgrace of turning as fine set of ball players as she has out of a job, and failing to pay them the money which they have already earned and should have. In case the team does go to pieces Saturday night it will be many a day before Wilmington will ever be able to get in any league, for the news will spread far and wide with the aid of the outcast players, and it would be impossible to get a ball team here next season or for several years to come.

The boys even under the existing circumstances put up as fine an exhibition yesterday as any one could want to see, and any way it's up to everyone who has ever been to a ball game to go tomorrow, as every penny of the gate receipts will go towards paying that back salary, and Mr. Struthers is devoting his time and effort to it solely for the benefit of the team. One game will be played this afternoon commencing at 4 o'clock and Saturday a double header is scheduled, the first game commencing at 2:30 and the second game at 4:30.

So just a parting word to everyone who has a particle of civic pride; go to the game tomorrow, and if you can't possibly go, call by Struthers' and buy a ticket anyway.

Goldsboro Wins Out in Close Score—Score Two to Three—Raleigh Protests Game—New Recruit Shows Up Well.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., July 21.—Today's game was close throughout, both teams bunching hits with men on bases. Brown stole home from third, a stunt he pulled off once before this season, Couch, the southpaw, secured from Richmond, showed up very favorably. Raleigh protested the game because two balls were on the diamond at the same time, one having been thrown in from the foul line.

RALEIGH "FANS" ARE BUSY

Strenuous Effort to Raise Money to Maintain Their Team.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 21.—With three days of grace in which to organize a new management and take over her franchise surrendered last night to the directors of the East Carolina Baseball League, the Raleigh fans are stirring considerably today trying to get something tangible out of a badly mixed condition that has existed for some time. Something like $1,200 must be raised to put the team on its feet and make it possible for the Capital City to avert the calamity of being listed as a "quitter" in the baseball world. Pretty steady rains here today throw a decided damper on the efforts of the "faithful few" who are stirring around among the business and professional men in their effort to secure pledges.

Bad weather has so crippled not only the Raleigh team, but all the teams of the league this season that fear that continued inroads by rain may still further entail losing games, that this is having its detering effect in the matter of getting people to put money into the enterprise. A remarkable phase of the league situation is that in surrendering the Raleigh franchise the retiring management does not leave its $500 forfeit fun in the hands of the league management for the reason that about June 15th the team was on the verge of "dissolution" for want of funds and the directors allowed the application of Raleigh's forfeit fund to tide the team over. This action was with unanimous consent of the directors, except that Director Smith, of the Wilmington team, could not be gotten up with on that day by telegraph or telephone and the action was taken without his knowledge. It seems that at the time efforts were on to lay the matter before him he was on the train between Rocky Mount and Wilmington. It is understood that a number of the team managements of the league are now entertaining propositions for the sale of some of their most valuable men whom they are selling with the expectation of replacing them in the event the league conditions longer than Saturday when Raleigh's days of grace are over.

GOES OVER SIX STATES

Balloon Philadelphia II. Breaks Two Previous Records.

Pascoag, R. I., July 21.—The balloon Philadelphia II. which rose from Philadelphia at 10 o'clock last night, after passing over six States, during the night and journeying nearly 300 miles came down this morning on a farm two miles south of Pascoag, 235 miles in an air line from Philadelphia.

The balloon was piloted by Dr. Thomas E. Eldridge, president of the Philadelphia Aeronautical Recreation Society, who was making his 19th ascension. The passengers were Fred C. Underhill, and his 17 years old son, Andrew B. Underhill.

In distance and duration of time 14 hours, 15 minutes, the trip broke two previous records. The highest altitude was 10,550 feet. This record stands second for Philadelphia balloons the best previous elevation mark being 10,050 feet made by Dr. Eldge last June.

BARK'S CREW STARVING

Begged Piteously For Food When Steamer Was Hailed.

Boston, Mass., July 21.—The famished and emaciated crew of the Dutch bark Voorlichter was succored by Captain Watts, of the fruit steamer Banes, Monday on the Banes' trip to Boston from the West Indies.

The Voorlichter was bound from Curacoa for Hamburg and was flying signals of distress.

The crew was lined along the rail and pleaded piteously for food. Two boat loads of edibles were sent from the steamer to the bark.

It was learned from the commander of the Voorlichter that her passage had been so prolonged by calms that the provisions had practically given out and before several days the crew had been short of rations.

"C-Q-D"

The boys get the gate receipts today.

"Daddy" Struthers has taken the orphans in tow, and will see to it that they get every penny that comes in.

I'm here to slip it to you, that they played ball yesterday, and if you were not there don't let your seat be vacant this afternoon.

Mills was on the sick list and Tydeman held down the initial sack, which is a very plausible excuse for the errors charged to him.

Tydeman was the kid with the big stick yesterday slapping one up against leftfield fence that looked almost like three bags, and he got two on it.

This same batsman the next time up sent one in close proximity to the Durham's nose, but that mean centerfielder had the nerve and gall to rob him of it.

Every Wilmington citizen who goes to the ball game today and tomorrow will have the satisfaction ever after of knowing that they performed their part of what is an obligation resting jointly on the entire population of Wilmington.

Mr. Struthers already has 35 shares of the baseball stock subscribed, and will make a last effort today to get at least 40 more shares, which will be sufficient to tide the team over the present crisis, and with the grade of ball they are now playing all will be fair sailing. But this is the last call, and a failure this time means that Wilmington will not figure in baseball again for many years.

THE RALEIGH FRANCHISE.

Rumor of New Management—League Meeting Saturday Night.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 21.—Raleigh fans did not meet tonight to consider the redemption of the franchise in the Eastern Carolina League surrendered last night to the league directors. There seemed to have been some misunderstanding as to the time, and there was not at any time enough people at the Chamber of Commerce rooms to call the meeting to order.

There is a report that the Street Railway Company and three business men who are devoted to baseball, have determined to assume the support of the team for the remainder of the season, however, this cannot be verified. President Joel Whitaker, of the league, says there will be a final meeting here Saturday night when the directors of the league will probably meet with the fans and settle the question of both the fate of the Raleigh franchise and the existence of the league.

AT BURGAW

Annual District Conference Busy Yesterday With Reports From Various Charges—Good Showing Is Made.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., July 21.—The annual conference of the Wilmington District of the North Carolina Conference of the M. E. Church, South, convened in the Methodist Church her last night with a large attendance of pastors and laymen of the district.

The devotional part of the conference was begun last night by the singing of "There is a Land of Pure Delight." Rev. D. C. Geddie, of Whiteville, led the conference in prayer. "Blest be the Tie That Binds," was sung with a force and feeling as only those engaged in a common purpose could sing.

In the absence of Rev. E. R. Welch, pastor of Trinity Church, Wilmington, for whom the train failed to wait 12 minutes, the presiding elder, Rev. W. L. Cunninggim, preached the opening sermon. Using John 15:22, "If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have no cloke for their sin," he preached a forceful sermon on the subject, "The Force of a High Ideal." In course of his sermon he declared that the reason the Bible is rejected by one class and loved less by others is that it makes us uncomfortable in our sins.

The first business session was held this morning, beginning at 9:15 o'clock with devotional exercies conducted by Rev. D. C. Geddie, of Whiteville.

Rev. L. E. Sawyer, of Carvers' Creek, the secretary of last year, called the roll of the conference, after which, on motion of Rev. W. C. Merrit, he was duly elected as secretary for this conference.

Rev. W. L. Cunninggim, Rev. C. M. Lance, pastor of Burgaw Church, and Mr. R. I. Durham, of Burgaw, were constituted a committee on public worship.

The presiding elder appointed as the committee on quarterly conference records: Mr. A. J. Johnson and Revs. T. C. Ellers, W. E. Brown, C. T. Rogers and W. L. Rexford.

The committee on examinations, which had already been appointed as Revs. W. C. Merritt, D. C. Geddie and T. E. Wright, was changed by substituting Rev. E. R. Welch in place of Rev. T. E. Wright, who was called home to conduct two funerals.

Rev. L. S. Massey, editor of the "Raleigh Christian Advocate," was introduced to the conference, and presented the claims of that excellent paper on the Methodist people of this district.

Burgaw circuit was called and reported by Rev. C. M. Lance, pastor, who has had 63 accessions to the church so far this year. Messrs. D. W. Murray, R. L. Durham, J. G. Brown and J. E. Durham supplemented the report. When Columbus circuit was called Rev. F. F. Eure, the pastor, reported among other things the best prayer meeting in the district. Messrs. D. W. Wance and A. M. Benton made some very pleasing remarks on the same work. Those people are doing things these latter years.

Prof. C. L. Horneday, of Trinity Park School, Durham, and Rev. W. M. Curtis, financial agent of Greensboro Female College, were introduced to the conference, and presented the claims of their respective institutions.

At 11:15 the conference adjourned for preaching services at 11:30 by Rev. L. S. Massey, editor of the "Raleigh Christian Advocate." Using John 6:35, "I am the bread of life," as his text Mr. Massey preached Jesus as the life, the sustaining source of life and the developing force in life. This was truly a great sermon.

At the afternoon session devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. M. Lowder, of Kenansville. In his prayer he remembered especially Rev. A. D. Betts, D. D., of Greensboro.

Rev. L. S. Massey spoke in behalf of Louisburg Female College. Carvers' Creek circuit was called and Rev. L. E. Sawyer, pastor, and Mr. A. G. Holmes reported some splendid advances in church work. Rev. J. C. Whedbee, the pastor, Messrs. A. J. Johnson and W. R. Newbury reported for Magnolia circuit. The good report of the laymen shows that they are active in the interest of the church. Rev. W. C. Merritt, pastor, and Mr. W. R. King, reported for Clinton circuit. Their report of conditions bespeak good things from Sampson. Rev. T. H. Bain, pastor, and Mr. J. W. Danford reported for Town Creek circuit; Rev. J. T. Stanford, Messrs. R. W. Phillips and M. R. Sabiston for Onslow circuit, and Rev. W. V. MacRae, the pastor, and Mr. Robt. Swain for Southport.

Rev. W. C. Merritt, pastor of Clinton circuit, preached tonight and his sermon was listened to with interest.

AFFAIRS AT STATE CAPITAL.

Capt Lineberry Assumes Charge of Soldiers' Home.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 21.—Captain W. S. Lineberry, recently elected to the superintendency of the North Carolina Soldiers' Home here to succeed the late Capt. R. H. Brooks, assumed the duties of his position today, thereby relieving State Auditor B. F. Dixon largely of extra duties in connection with the home that he has carried for a long while as secretary to the board of trustees and an enthusiastic and self-sacrificing Confederate Veteran. Capt. Lineberry comes from Randolph. Mrs. Lineberry is with him and will serve as matron. There are now 160 old soldiers in the home. The plant is valued at about $25,000.

Four new enterprises were chartered today for North Carolina with Maxton, Salisbury, Newbern and Nashville as the home offices. They are: Maxton Real Estate, Building & Development Co., capital $50,000 by C. J. Cottingham and others; The S. C. Hollister Co., Newbern, capital $50,000 by T. W. Brogdon and others for mercantile business; The Nashville Canning Co., capital $2,000 by N. L. Stickland and others; The Labor Club, Salisbury, capital $100 for social purposes by J. A. THE BATTLE OF MOORE'S CREEK

Address of President James F. Moore, of Monumental Association, at Battleground Celebration Yesterday.

His heart and soul in the work, endowed with a strong intellectuality and inspired with the patriotism of a glorious ancestry, the annual addresses of President James F. Moore, of the Moore's Creek Monumental Association, have always featured the celebrations on that famous Revolutionary battlefield. Yesterday was no exception to the rule. He delivered a beautiful, eloquent tribute to the heroes of Moore's Creek and most fittingly welcomed the visitors, the detailed account of the celebration being carried elsewhere in today's paper. Mr. Moore spoke as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen:—I extend to you a cordial welcome to our celebration. For years untold we have made pilgrimages to this historic place, and it is pleasing to me on this occasion to again pay homage to those old heroes who did their part in establishing our now grand civilization.

Their brave deeds in the battle fought here nearly a century and a half ago, appeal to us today and are a common and a glorious heritage to all of us.

Nothing so inspires us as to assemble around these memorials and pledge anew that patriotism possessed by every country loving American.

Had the victory won here been in the northern section of our Republic a Whittier, a Longfellow, or other poet would have immortalized in epic style the brave acts of gallant warriors. A Bancroft, a Cooper, a Quackenboss, or other Northern writer, would have in florid manner forever made memorable the first victory gained in battle in the War of the Revolution.

View these scenes, my fellow citizens, and contemplate that you stand on consecrated soil, hallowed by the blood and burial of heroes who feared not death.

We North Carolinians can point with never ending pride to our progenitors who contributed so largely in making from thirteen colonies our great North American Republic.

Gentlemen of the Old North State, with our illustrious past we should never forget our well earned glory, yet, should we not exert ourselves toward present possibilities and exigencies; have we not every natural advantage, a climate unexcelled, fabulous undeveloped wealth, a commonwealth which should be a garden spot of this Republic, and in all the galaxy of States, none should surpass us?

I cannot conclude this reference to Revolutionary struggles, without praising the heroic part borne by our patriotic forefathers, and with this acknowledgment, Moore's Creek Battle Ground Association leads the world in erecting here a beautiful memorial to woman's conspicuous achievements in war.

What great effort has ever been formulated to success, whether on the white wings of peace, or the bloody scourge of war, which was not aided by good and noble women?

Woman has more for which to be grateful than man, in establishing liberty, equality and the spreading of Christian civilization; every progressive and enlightened movement which sweeps over the world places her upon a higher pedestal of freedom and usefulness.

The world has its philosophers, its scholars, its great masters, and those who perform grand achievements—all praise to them; but one who performs his or her duty as the light is given in advancing the welfare of humanity is second to none of these, and is a potent factor in human progress; though the plaudits of an appreciative public may be not so numerous, nor the crowns contain so many stars, yet the stars in their diadems will emblazon with lustre and glory.

Modern methods and improved means of communication have brought all nations closer together, not only commercially, but socially, and with the information acquired, cannot we the more plainly see the common brotherhood of man, and does it not behoove us to do our part in working out a common destiny beneficial to all of us?

Absolute rulership today is a fallacious dream and a thing of the past. Intelligent men of every nationality are studying the American system of government. The whole world is progressing towards representative government, how important then it is that our administration of government shall be incorruptible?

Throughout all the ages of the world's history every generation of men have sung praises to heroes who have performed brave deeds in war, but the greatest military chieftain the world can ever produce will be the hero who can lead the world to universal peace.

This is a crucial period in the history of our Republic. Perhaps the most intricate problem which now confronts us is, how much power we can concede to the general government, and retain unimpaired State sovereignty. There have been millions of money expended, lives without number sacrificed; the arbitrament of the sword has failed to decide it; yet it must be decided, not by war, but by peaceful solution.

Does not this and many other problems which now confront us, call forth diligent study by broadminded, conservative Americans, free from contaminated interest, devoid of sectionalism; men versed in statecraft, who can rise above partisanship and with our heterogenious whole?

God bless North Carolina as a sovereign State, and long live our Republic.

"And as the blessed angels turn
The page of our years,
God grant they blot the ill with tears,
And bless the good with smiles."

KILLED FIVE CHILDREN.

Confession of Horrible Murder Stirs France—Father Paid Penalty.

Tours, France, July 21.—A rag picker named Joseph, today confessed to the assassination April 21, 1901, of five children of a farmer named Briere in the vicinity of Chartres. The father of the children was found guilty of the murders and sentenced to life imprisonment. He died in prison.

The trial of Briere attracted the attention of the whole of France. Four of his daughters, aged respectively 14, 11, 5 and 4, and his son, seven years of age, were found in bed one morning stabbed and beaten to death. The farmer was arrested and charged by the police with the crime. According to a theory advanced by the police to prove a motive for the crime, Briere, who owned a small farm near Corancz, wished to marry a woman of considerable wealth. Circumstantial evidence led to the conviction that the farmer, considering his family an encumbrance, murdered his five children in order to carry out his wishes. Briere stoutly maintained his innocence throughout the trial, and declared that two tramps entered the house during his absence and killed the children. He added that he returned while the murderers were robbing the place and that they attacked him and left him for dead. During the trial the judge got down from the bench and gave loud expression to his opinion of the guilt of the prisoner while the spectators yelled, "kill him, kill him."

A specific incident of the trial occurred when Briere's surviving daughter, who, the police declared, only escaped the fate of the other children by not responding to Briere's invitation to go to see him, went on the witness stand sobbingly protested that her father was innocent and begged the court to restore him to her.

'Foley's Kidney Pills Have Cured Me.'

The above is a quotation from a letter written by H. M. Winkler, Evansville, Ind. "I contracted a severe case of kidney trouble. My back gave out and pained me. I seemed to have lost all strength and ambition; was bothered with dizzy spells, my head would swim and specks float before my eyes. I took Foley Kidney Pills regularly and am now perfectly well and feel like a new man. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me." Robt. R. Bellamy.

TUMOR OF YEARS GROWTH

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Holly Springs, Miss.—"Words are inadequate for me to express what your wonderful medicines have done for me. The doctors said I had a tumor, and I had an operation, but was soon as bad again as ever. I wrote to you for advice, and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you told me to do. I am glad to say that now I look and feel so well that my friends keep asking me what has helped me so much, and I gladly recommend your Vegetable Compound."—MRS. WILLIE EDWARDS, Holly Springs, Miss.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy—tumor. If you have mysterious pains, inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable compound at once.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and such unquestionable testimony as the above proves the value of this famous remedy, and should give everyone confidence.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Friday, July 22nd, 1910.

Mrs. Minor Morris has not been showing any signs of joining the pilgrimage to Oyster Bay.

By all means the Republican Congress should have provided much more protection for every State in the Union—against the G. O. P. army of windjammers.

A prohibition campaign is proposed in Ireland. It is not difficult to foresee that any attempt to take the stump on the part of a prohibition speaker would be the signal for a display of ancestral shillalahs.

Some people believe that Jeffries sold out. That is only a suspicion, however, but there is no doubt whatever that the spectators of the fight were sold and could have been bought cheaper even after the 15th round.

The Savannah Morning News is captious because Col. Roosevelt in his brief article condemning prize fights, made use of the pronoun "I" 18 times. Possibly the Colonel deliberately intended to be ironical in what he had to say.

Webster's Weekly, of Reidsville, revives the old adage, "Give the devil his dues." That would be all right if there were only one of him, but how can a man do so when every one of him presents his bill on the first of the month?

Jeffries is now wailing to the effect that he went down before Jack Johnson because he had been doped. We refuse to accept his incerdible story unless he can prove that he had been absorbing some of the campaign dope that the Republicans are now handing out to suckers.

Some years ago Republican campaigns were based upon the preposterous proposition of prosperity. The comb of the bigoted spellbinders has now been clipped, so an argument along that line would be looked on by the audience as the grimmest of humor or as merely a plea for the justification of perfidy.

Dr. Henry B. Keeler, of Brooklyn, N. Y., married a woman in order to swindle her out of $13,500. She got mad and had it put in the papers. How different are those Brooklyn women from North Carolina women who may have regular frauds for husbands yet meekly put up with it so their next door neighbors can't find it out.

The Columbia State, which is not at all reliable when it comes to fried chicken, is after all capable of splendid gallantry and exquisite taste. For instance, the esteemed State remarks: "The belles of North Carolina are not myths." Here is where we chime in with the Columbia State. The North Carolina belles are capable of charmingly wringing a fellow's heart in a peculiarly gentle way that no other belles can perfectly understand or hope to attempt.

A newspaper dispatch says Senator Aldrich is summering at his magnificent country place enjoying his palatial residence and grounds which cost him $1,500,000. If we were to pick a man to revise the tariff and we got a fellow who was worth millions of dollars, the people would kick us for selecting a reviser so rolling in wealth that he could not possibly appreciate the fact that the tariff should have been revised so as to take the burden off men who have to make a living for themselves and their families. The Republican party picks out the Aldriches and they represent the millionaire class and certainly not the people who most perceptibly feel the pinch of a protective tariff levied for the benefit of Big Business.

DECEIVED BY APPEARANCES.

The "insurgents" who came out smiling from the presence of the Great Oracle at Oyster Bay, surely must have misinterpreted the Colonel's very evident delight because they called. The Colonel also was equally and reasonably "delighted" every time the regulars dropped in, but they, too, must not be at all misled by the inexpressibly pleased appearance of the Rough Rider.

The blockes and the guys should not be deceived by appearances. Why, er—they should have had gumption enough to have known that the reason the Colonel gave them all the glad hand and the patronizing pat was because he was taking all the honors to himself. Quite naturally enough, he beamed on the whole bunch because he had every reason to believe that all kinds of people love to honor him. Indeed, it was quite natural that a preponderant and lofty ego would dictate to the Colonel that everybody and anybody who showed up at Sagamore Hill merely called to pay their respects to a favorite creation of Destiny and to get called "bully boys with the glass eye" as an appreciative hand-out for all callers, without regard to past affiliation or present defilement.

No doubt Col. Roosevelt is sorry he created the impression on either the insurgents or the regulars that he was for either one side of the other. If, however, anybody really could be for both sides at the same time, the versatile Colonel is the man who could do it better than anybody else, but neither insurgents nor regulars had any right to believe he was for them simply because he had a duck fit when they called. The fact is he was only delighted because he thought all callers were "for" him, little dreaming that any of them would be punk-headed enough to depart hence with the delusion that he was for them.

Nevertheless, it appears that the mighty hunter's exhuberant cordiality made a false impresion. Hence, he had to take advantage of the ever obliging Associated Press a few days ago, to explain in a direct and emphatic way that he has never yet expressed himself in favor of either the regulars or the insurgents. The Colonel's explanation was a round-about way of saying that he was on the fence all the time he was "acting nice" to his callers, but we knew that in North Carolina before the Colonel's explanation was made. The whole misunderstanding was caused by the callers who went with the hope of being favored instead of paying honors that were due and fully expected.

We say this in behalf of Col. Roosevelt because he would not care to be quoted in this particular instance. As you meander through life always look out for yourself, and don't get deceived by appearances.

LODGE LOGIC.

In a recent speech Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, made the absurd and ridiculous declaration that green hides have advanced in price because the tariff on hides was lowered. A politician of the ability of Senator Lodge prefers to be absurd rather than acknowledge that a high tariff is levied to make foreign hides pay a duty so the producers of hides in the United States can get the benefit of a better price for their hides on account of the protection levied in their interest. If the Republican tariff lowers instead of increases prices every man who is a Republican because he believes that the tariff gives him higher prices for his products, would quickly see his mistake and vote to take off the tariff in order to get bigger prices and get rich quick. We should think that Senator Lodge would have a hard time making a dyed-in-the-wool Republican believe that taking off the tariff would give him better prices and consequently provide the prosperity that he gets under a protective tariff which he is led to believe is levied for his benefit.

Lodge's argument is of the reversible kind well calculated to make a hidebound and knowing Republican wink the other eye. Verily, if revising the tariff downward will put up prices, then, according to the Lodge logic, a high tariff would necessarily lower prices. If that were true, we would witness a vast acrobatic performance of Republicans leaping over one another in haste to join the Democrats in securing an immediate reduction of the tariff. Protectionists could no longer be persuaded to believe a high tariff would be protective.

The Democrats expect to win. However, the higher their expectations go the more money the Republicans will raise to fortify themselves against all kinds of threatening possibilities.

"The narrow ladies' skirts will be expensive this Fall," says a fashion article. Gee! If they will be expensive for narrow ladies, the more latitudious devotees of fashion surely will catch it.

Uncle Joe is making campaign speeches with a view to electing Republican Congressmen. That certainly is his only hope of heading off the movement to make him walk the plank from the Ship of State.

COWPEAS AND SEED CORN.

The North Carolina Department of Agriculture is untiring in its efforts to promote the agricultural interests of the State. The campaign is an aggressive one, and not only is better methods of cultivation constantly urged, but the useful and profitable products to which North Carolina soils are adapted are being brought to the attention of the farmers. Progressive farming, diversification of products, alternation of crops, seed selection, soil restoration and scientific fertilization distinguish the efforts of the Department, and the result inevitably will be more and better crops and greater yields.

A few weeks ago the Department sent out a valuable bulletin on the cultivation of the fig, its uses for home consumption, and its value as a money crop, and no doubt that bulletin caught the majority of farmers in North Carolina without a single fig tree on their premises. It is a matter of astonishment that this is so, but it is true, nevertheless.

However, this is not a fig article, but was begun with a view to call attention to the cultivation of the cowpea in North Carolina and to speak of the timely question of the policy of selecting seed corn. The Department is sending out bulletins on these exceedingly important subjects and the farmers should make haste to send for them. The bulletin with reference to cowpeas embraces the report of Dr. B. W. Kilgore, director of the State Test Farms, and it covers the interesting and valuable subjects of fertilization and variety experiments with cowpeas on the test farm in Iredell county for the past five years, together with a discussion of the results and their application to North Carolina farming conditions. A comprehensive report is made as to the culture and handling of the crop, and the results presented show, in a striking way, the fertilizer requirements of the cowpea on certain soils. It also speaks of the varieties which can be grown at greatest profit for different purposes. The application of the fertilizer results, especially, will result in a large saving in the fertilizer bills of farmers growing this crop. The yields for peas and hay showed that right fertilization pays handsomely. The benefit to land was also one of the results emphasized, and the farmers of the State would conserve their interests by taking up this cowpea question in earnest.

The bulletin on selection of seed corn is also a most timely and valuable one. Through the efforts of the Department the corn production in North Carolina this year will be the largest in the history of the State. The proper way to select seed corn in order to get a greater yield and better qualities of corn is fully gone into. The bulletin is not only valuable for the practical and scientific information it contains, but it is intensely interesting. It will teach farmers something about the nature of corn that they do not know and certainly it will add to their wisdom as well as to their profits. It is completely demonstrated that North Carolina farmers will actually find it more profitable to raise their own corn than to raise cotton or any other crops from the sales of which to buy the corn that they are compelled to have. The Department is certainly to be commended for its earnest purpose to induce the farmers to recognize these facts, and it is the desire to vividly impress upon the farmers that they should emerge from their usual condition of debt and humiliation by producing at least all the corn that is needed upon each farm in the State. That would keep millions of dollars in the State every year. Prosperity will never come to any agricultural community till it keeps its money at home by raising at home every farm product that the soil is capable of producing.

If Governor Harmon has those Ohio lynchers hanged he will lay himself liable to the accusation of having it done in order to curtail the Republican vote at the coming election.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Mr. Victor S. Bryant, of the Durham bar, is mentioned as a dark horse for the Fifth Congressional district if the second convention results in a deadlock. There are no abler men in the State than the gentlemen in the race, but Mr. Bryant is the peer of any of them and the Fifth district could do worse than to send him to Congress.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The current issue of Industrial Progress, the handsomest publication of its kind that has come to The Chronicle, contains as one of its principal features the paper on "Electric Drive in Textile Mills," which was presented at the convention in this city of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers by Mr. Albert Milmow, of the Southern Power Company. Mr. Milmow is not only in the front rank among electrical engineers, but he is a keen observer and his experience with the Southern Power Company during the past few years has made him more than ever an authority on the subject he treats. Mr. Milmow shows that there is a tremendous difference in the cost of installing and of operating the steam and the electric drive. For a mill requiring 1,000 horsepower the installation of the electric drive costs $33,897. The installation for steam drive for the same plant costs $79,043, more than $10,000 more than twice as much. The advantage of the electric drive in the operation of a plant, however, is probably greater than the difference in the cost of installation. The improved speed and steadiness less wear and tear on the equipment and increased efficiency of the labor resulting in the highest point of production. Yet another advantage is in the flexibility of the electric drive system. No more power is used than is necessary to drive the machinery that is to be operated. Any fractional part of the equipment may be operated and no more power is used than is necessary and when the machinery stops the power stops the same instant. An increase of production is noted in every mill that has changed from the steam to the electric drive. It is interesting to note the increase and the manner of the increase in the use of the electric drive in this section. According to Mr. Milmow, during the year 1905 the Southern Power Company was selling only 5,000 horsepower of current to cotton mills in this section. This amount was doubled during the next year. In 1907, the increase was from 10,000 to 25,000 up; in 1908 from 25,000 to more than 35,000. During the year 1909 the increase was tremendous, being from 35,000 to 70,000. Several months ago the amount of "juice" being used was 80,000 and it is pretty safe to presume that the amount will be something like 100,000 by the opening of 1911. As The Chronicle has remarked before, the water powers of the Piedmont section of North and South Carolina constitute one of the very greatest assets of the section, and the Southern Power Company as the chief agent of their development is doing more to advance the industrial development of the section and attract capital to it than any other half dozen agencies combined.

LAW ENFORCEMENT.

Employment of City Solicitor Has Worked Wonders in Charlotte.

The Charlotte Evening Chronicle which is usually level-headed and practical has the following editorial which should be of interest in Wilmington:

During the past few weeks there have been signs of a determination upon the part of someone to see that the ordinances of the city of Charlotte are not so utterly disregarded as many of them have been since they were given a place in the city code. These signs are decidedly gratifying to the law-abiding citizen and wholesome conditions are bound to be the result. If any ordinance of this city is not to be enforced it were better that it be repealed and taken out of the city code, for any violation of law breeds contempt not only for that law but for all law and for the courts, the police system and all the machinery of the law.

Two or three circumstances and agencies are responsible for the awakening in regard to law enforcement which we believe we can see. The real awakening began some time ago when the city employed a city solicitor. The selection of Mr. J. L. Dalaney for this position, more important even than the city fathers realized when the appointment was made, was a wise one. Mr. Delaney has shown himself to be conscientious and fearless and these two attributes, together with his knowledge of the law and ability to practice it, leave him without short-comings in his position, and his duties have been performed in such a manner that the humblest and meanest thief that he has prosecuted cannot say that he was prosecuted with any more vigor than any individual or class of individuals in the city of Charlotte who have violated the law. More men of influence and of some wealth have been arraigned in the city police court during the past few weeks than ever before in a like period during the history of the city, and it has not been because there have been more violations, either.

The ability and the zeal of City Solicitor Delaney have inspired the members of the police force. Every man knows that when he digs out a case or arrests a man that he will be backed up to the limit in the prosecution of the case, that he has an ally who is versed in the law and will ward off the thrusts of an attorney who may be employed by the defendant. Further than this, the city solicitor and the members of the city police force hold weekly conferences at which the city ordinances are discussed and members of the force secure definite information upon any law that may not be clear to them in all its ramifications. This information is invaluable to the members of the force and the spirit of co-operation that exists between them and the solicitor does credit to both and is a valuable asset to the city.

The Chronicle trusts that it has not misread the signs, that a beginning has been made that will mean the enforcement of the laws of the city in such manner that a decent citizen may take pride in the manner of its enforcement and that no injustice will be done anyone or any class, for an unequal distribution of justice does an injustice to many.

FOREST FIRES STILL RAGING.

Wisconsin Forest Reserve Destroyed—Loss Reaches $500,000.

Wausau, Wis., July 21.—The losses from forest fires in districts North and East continue and every hour brings reports of new country invaded. The flames are sweeping a large portion of Central Wisconsin. So far the only village burned is Meinemann but Irma, Gleason and Bloomville are in imminent danger. The 100 inhabitants of Meinemann are still at Gleason, from whence the people will be taken by train tonight if the fires come nearer.

The practical destruction this morning of the Huntington forest reserve near Kelly is a serious loss to the State. The loss will reach $500,000.

The Heinemann Lumber Company's mill at Heinemann burned April 4th and now the concern loses every vestige of property there. The loss is estimated at $200,000. Refugees from Heinemann say the town seemed to burn at once, flames jumping 200 feet and enveloping every house but two. All inhabitants, however, had been taken to Gleason two hours previous and no lives were lost.

Mother Unable to Leave Babe Met Horrible Death.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 21.—Trapped in bed with her week old baby, Mrs. Grace Wilson was burned to death this afternoon when fire destroyed the old Ledyard block at the corner of South Division street and Fourth avenue.

A nurse, Mrs. Amelie Keoney, who heroically tried to rescue mother and baby, received burns which proved fatal an hour later and the babe is now dying in the hospital.

The fire originated supposedly from a gasoline explosion.

WAY HELD WITHOUT BOND

Coroner's Jury Finds Him Responsible for Death of Young Register—Another Witness Examined—Autopsy.

At the second sitting yesterday morning of the jury appointed by Coroner C. D. Bell to inquire into the cause of the death of Mr. C. L. Register, of Warsaw, Duplin county, the report of Dr. W. D. MacMillan, who performed the autopsy, was received and one other witness examined, and after deliberating for a short time a verdict was reached to the effect that Register came to his death as a result of a blow inflicted by one Walter Way. When the verdict had been received the coroner placed Way in the custody of the Sheriff without bond to await trial in Superior Court, which convenes Monday.

Dr. MacMillan, in his report, stated that he found evidence of hemorrhages and that many of the blood vessels at the base of the brain had been ruptured.

W. S. Mintz, the proprietor of a printing shop on Dock, between Front and Water streets, evidently the same as referred to by the witnesses examined the day before, was the only witness at yesterday's sitting of the jury. He testified that Register and Way were quarreling in his place of business about 12:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon and that he was compelled to eject them from the premises. The next time he saw Register, the latter was lying on the ground.

It would appear from the evidence of the four witnesses examined that Register and Way had met and quarrelled several times before the blow was struck that resulted in the death of the former.

The coroner's jury was composed of the following: George Harriss, foreman; John W. Gafford, secretary; Messrs. J. B. Britt, W. B. Savage, Julius Sternberger and S. F. Yopp.

TO ARIZONA FOR HEALTH.

Fund Raised by Mayor for Young Tuberculosis Sufferer.

Some days ago George Lynn, a young white man about 25 years old, sufferer of tuberculosis, appealed to Mayor Walter G. MacRae to aid him in securing transportation to Phoenix, Ariz., where he desired to go in the interest of his health. The young man has been operating a logging train in this section and had been in the city only a short time. Mayor MacRae was touched by the appeal of the young man and immediately set about to raise a fund for him. Mrs. Cuthbert Martin, of the local Red Cross Society, was communicated with and with her valuable assistance the Mayor was able to raise $27.75 in addition to the amount required to purchase a ticket for the young man from Wilmington to New Orleans, for which place he left Wednesday afternoon. The New Orleans Red Cross Society will no doubt aid him in securing funds to carry him the remainder of the journey.

He was a member of the local police force in the '70s and early '80s and was noted for his bravery and faithfulness to duty. Wilmington Baptist Suspends.

The Wilmington Baptist, successor to The Visitor, which has been published monthly under the auspices of the executive committee of the Wilmington Baptist Association, suspends with the July issue, which is just out. The reason given for the suspension is that the young son of Editor Whitlock, who has been doing the inside work on the paper, thereby enabling its publication at small cost, goes away to school this Fall and there seems to be no one else in the association who cares to undertake the work. The paper will be greatly missed by its large number of subscribers.

Walton, who passed away at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, corner Seventh and Castle streets, after an illness extending over a period of six or eight months, suffering from a complication of diseases. For the past few days his condition was regarded as critical and little hope was entertained for his recovery, but the realization of his passing came as a great shock to his loved ones and friends.

NEGRO PAINFULLY HURT.

Bicycle He Was Riding Collided With Street Car.

Butler Watson, colored, who lives at Sixth and Dawson streets, was painfully injured about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the bicycle he was riding collided with an outward bound belt line street car corner of Fourth and Princess streets. Watson fell under the front of the car and his nose was split open to the bone, his hands, arms and legs were badly bruised and he received an ugly wound on the head. The car was in charge of Motorman C. L. Barnes, who, when he realized that a collision was inevitable, applied the emergency brakes and brought his car to a standstill in time to prevent what might have been a fatal accident. Watson was going down Fourth street from Market on his bicycle at such a rate of speed that it was impossible for him to stop his "bike" in time to prevent the collision. The negro was taken to the office of Dr. J. C. Wessell, only a block away, and was given the necessary surgical attention by Drs. Wessel and J. B. Cranmer. He was later removed to his home. It is not thought that the negro is seriously injured.

THREATENED CONDUCTOR.

Negro Arrested for Flashing Pistol on Street Car Last Night.

Walter Guion, colored, was arrested last night on a warrant charging him with carrying concealed weapons and in default of bond he is in the city prison awaiting hearing before the Recorder this morning. The warrant was sworn out by Mr. Wm. Baldwin, conductor on one of the belt line street cars, who alleged that the negro drew a pistol on him one day last week and in a threatening voice asked how much money he had. This occurred on a street car and followed some words the conductor had with the negro about the payment of his fare. The negro is said to have been drinking. Mr. Baldwin saw the negro once after the occurrence, but did not know his name until yesterday, when the warrant was sworn out. Some days ago the police arrested a negro by the name of John Miller, but he proved to be the wrong person. Mr. Baldwin is positive that Guion is the right negro. A charge of disorderly conduct will also be preferred against Guion.

FIVE DEEP WELLS.

The Water and Sewerage Committee of the Board of Aldermen, composed of Mr. J. H. Hinton, chairman; Messrs. Walter E. Yopp and Thos. B. Willard, yesterday morning opened bids for the sinking of five deep wells in the city recently authorized by the Board of Aldermen and Board of Audit and Finance. Bids were received as follows: J. D. Lowry, $124.50 per well; Artesian Well Co., Wilson, $99 per well, and T. W. Callihan, $98.50. Mr. Callihan being the lowest bidder the contract was awarded to him, the work to be commenced within 20 days. Four wells will be located as follows: Fifth and Castle streets, Seventh and Dawson, Fourth and Swan, near Front street market house.

Funeral of Infant Daughter.

The body was brought to this city yesterday morning and the funeral was held at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery.

Robeson and practically every other county in the district. Robeson was there and Cumberland was there and they were going to cast their vote in a legal and orderly manner. He read Section 59 of the Plan to show that the matter was entirely one for the credentials committee which was the proper tribunal to try the contest. He also read the last of Section 55, to show that one delegate from a county cannot challenge a delegate from another county.

Clifford replied that he had not challenged a delegate that he had contended that Cumberland was without proper representation. Several shouted that it was the same thing. Mr. Stedman, of Cumberland, was recognized and in an impassioned address from the press stand stated that the matter before the convention was far dearer than any one man's ambition. The success of the Democratic party was involved and he was for harmony. He moved that G. B. Patterson be made permanent chairman. Mr. Patterson requested Mr. Stedman to withdraw his nomination for chairman and he did so. Mr. Patterson then said that there certainly was the right of the appeal from the chairman's ruling and he made that appeal which was seconded by a dozen or more.

J. W. Bolton, of Cumberland, after some delay in seating the delegates, addressed the convention, reviewing the whole case and pleading with the chairman for representation for as fine a body of men as there were in Cumberland; yea, in the State. He contended that the chair had been arbitrary and that the whole matter should be referred to the credentials committee.

The chairman then ruled that as Cumberland did not elect delegates that Cumberland would have no right to vote on sustaining or overruling the chair until the appeal was settled in convention. This brought forth another storm. Ex-Congressman J. G. Shaw, of Cumberland, addressed the convention in conciliatory manner and pleaded that there be no split in the convention as would be inevitable upon that ruling. He asked for a signed protest of Cumberland's delegation and no protest was forthcoming. He called loudly to the secretary to know if he had any protest. Maj. Lyon shouted with equal vehemence that there was no protest. Here among Democrats let's have a semblance of order, the speaker pleaded. He asked for harmony and said that he had just come in the hall and would be glad to hear from Hon. John D. Bellamy, of New Hanover. Mr. Bellamy responded and when quiet had been restored gave the procedure in Congress citing his own contested election case wherein he had a voice in his own seating. He even had a chance to vote in a Republican Congress. How much more so should the rule obtain in a Democratic primary. Mr. Clifford replying to Mr. Bellamy said that Bellamy's opponent, Dockery, who had no credentials was not allowed to vote.

G. Herbert Smith, of Columbus, was recognized and challenged the vote of Brunswick on the ground that the convention and primaries were not eve held on the day set out in the Democratic plan of organization. Mr. Clifford then by intimation challenged New Hanover's vote on the same grounds as that proposed for Cumberland. Mr. W. P. M. Turner, of the New Hanover delegation, replied heatedly and showed that the secretary merely had to certify the delegation and this had been done in due form in New Hanover.

Bolton, of Cumberland, made the point that Clifford was not even a delegate and the secretary stated that he had no credentials from Harnett. They were finally passed over to the secretary by Mr. Clifford. Mr. Turner then made the point that Brunswick was without credentials. These were not forthcoming though members of the delegation said that they had them and would be presented at the proper time. W. D. Gaster, of Cumberland, on crutches and a grizzled veteran of many conventions, mounted the desk and spoke feelingly of the situation that had developed and pleaded with the chairman not to be arbitrary in his ruling. He asked the chairman if he had not had time to put the question of whether or not the convention would sustain his ruling. Mr. Bellamy then in the interest of harmony moved an adjournment. Pandemonium reigned and at 1:30 o'clock the chairman declared the convention adjourned until 3:45 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The surprise of the convention was sprung when the afternoon session was called to order at 3:45 P. M. Secretary Lyon of the Congressional Executive Committee, got the ear of the convention and read the following action of the committee taken at a called meeting during the recess:

Wrightsville, N. C., July 21st.

A meeting of the Congressional Executive Committee of this district was duly called to meet at Nathan's hotel on this day at 3:30 o'clock, all members being duly notified of the meeting. Present: T. A. Lyon, W. E. Springer, S. B. King, E. G. Davis and Frank Gough.

On motion, T. A. Lyon was elected as chairman of the meeting in the absence of the chairman. On motion of E. G. Davis, it was unanimously moved and carried that Geo. H. Bellamy be deposed as chairman of the committee.

On motion of S. B. King it was unanimously ordered that Wm. E. Springer be elected as chairman of this committee. Motion unanimously adopted.

The meeting then adjourned.

TERRY A. LYON, Vice Chmn.
WM. E. SPRINGER,
S. B. KING,
E. G. DAVIS,
FRANK GOUGH,
Committee.

He also read the call for the meeting and the acceptances of services of notice from all except the deposed chairman.

The newly elected chairman was brought forward and took his seat with Secretary Lyon immediately in front of the former chairman's position, the secretary being with him. Chairman Bellamy refused to yield and at once pandemonium broke loose It was, however, possible to call the roll of counties and members of the credentials and platform committees were appointed, Robeson, Harnett and Brunswick, however, refusing to participate. An adjournment was then taken to 6:15 to give the committees time to meet and report. In the meantime both chairmen held forth in the hall, neither yielding to the other. While the crowds waited and surged in front of the stand, a fisticuff occurred between rival delegates but this was soon silenced and the wait and the pandemonium continued. At 6:15 the secretary attempted to get a roll call, but was met each time for more than hour with shouts for the deposed chairman from Harnett and Brunswick. The wildest scenes ensued and the police were called in, Chief Williams and half a dozen men being sent down from the city. The chairman insisted that order must be maintained and after a conciliation speech by ex-Mayor A. G. Ricaud, of New Hanover, quiet was finally restored and delegations were prevailed upon to take their seats. The report of the credentials committee was then called for and E. G. Davis reported as follows::

Wrightsville Beach, July 21, 1910.

We the Credential Committee beg leave to report that we met in accordance with appointment with the following present: L. B. Evans from Bladen; J. J. Furlong, New Hanover; K. B. Council, Columbus; E. There were contests from Harnett and Robeson. Harnett county: The committee recommends that the following be and is the vote from Harnett county: H. L. Godwin 25.70, A. J. McKinnon 3.05, H. L. We further recommend that Edwin Smith, E. A. Purdie, A. F. Johnson, J. L. Hines, L. J. Best and R. O. Primrose be seated as delegates in the Harnett delegation with full power to cast the strength of as above reported of Candidates McKinnon, Cook, Clark, McClammy and Brown.

Robeson Protest—The committee recommends that the present returned delegates from Lumberton township, Messrs. E. M. Britt and J. A. McDougald be unseated as delegates to represent and vote the McKinnon strength in Lumberton township, Robeson county, and further your committee sayeth not.

L. B. EVANS, Chmn.
E. G. DAVIS, Secretary.

Through Chas. G. Rose, Esq., the committee on permanent organization then reported, naming Hon. G. B. Patterson, of Maxton, as permanent chairman as follows:

At the conclusion of the reports, Mr. Patterson came forward and was presented by retiring Chairman Springer. Mr. Patterson addressed the convention in a very pacificatory manner and promised to preside over the conven-

CHILD MORTALITY IN SUMMER

Every summer the newspapers are full of horrifying stories of the death list among infants and children and extremely old people. In nursing infants and children still being fed largely on milk this is usually due to the quality of the milk itself, and in aged people to a general weakening of the system because of extreme heat. Still, a great many of the deaths are due to digestive trouble, and these can usually be avoided by the timely use of a reliable laxative-tonic. There is no remedy for this purpose that lends itself better to the uses of children and aged people than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which for a generation has been the reliance of thousands of mothers and which is gaining in favor every year. This remedy, unlike a purgative, salt, laxative water or "infant medicine," contains nothing that is dangerous to the health of the weakest or youngest person, and its repeated use does not form a habit, as is the case with narcotic remedies for children. Go to your druggist this very day and buy a 50 cent or $1.00 bottle, and like thousands of other parents, keep it on hand for an emergency. You can obtain a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE by addressing

LARGE QUANTITY BRASS STOLEN

Sam Shaw, Colored, Arrested for Robbery at Navassa.

Charged with stealing about 400 pounds of lead, brass, etc., from the Navassa Guano Company, Sam Shaw, colored, about 25 years old, was arrested at Navassa yesterday afternoon by Constable W. A. Williams, of Northwest township, Brunswick county. The negro admitted his guilt, but claims that another negro, whose name he gave the officer, persuaded him to take part in the robbery. The other negro is said to reside in Wilmington and for the purpose of capturing him, if possible, Constable Williams came to the city last night. He brought Shaw with him to identify the other negro. Although Constable Williams and local officers searched the city until a late hour last night, no trace of the negro was found. The stolen property is said to have been found at Shaw's home near Navassa. Shaw will be taken to Leland this morning for preliminary hearing.

LADIES' YACHT RACE AT WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH.

A ladies' yacht race was held at Wrightsville Beach Wednesday afternoon under the auspices of the Carolina Yacht Club and it was one of the most successful and interesting events of the kind of the season and will probably be followed by another later in the season. Those entering the race were: Mrs. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., Miss Kate Northrop, Misses Ruth Bridgers, Cynthia Rountree, Julia Parsley and Nellie MacMillan. Three prizes were offered. The race was won by Mrs. MacMillan with Miss Kate Norfleet second. The boat run by Miss Bridgers became disabled and she had to withdraw from the race, but as she was the only remaining lady in the contest eligible for the third prize the emblem was presented to her. The rules governing the race were that the lady should remain at the tiller during the race and that only two gentlemen were to be allowed in each boat. The boats run by Misses Rountree, MacMillan and Parsley were disqualified as the young ladies deliverer the management of the yachts to others in the boats before the completion of the race.

ENGLAND STRIKE SETTLED

Labor Society Refused to Finance Fight Against Railroad.

New Castle, Eng., July 21.—The strike of 12,000 employes of the Northeastern railroad ended tonight as suddenly as it had begun on last Monday night. The men accepted the terms offered by the company and the night shifts commenced work at once. The day shifts will report for duty tomorrow morning.

The collapse of the strike followed quickly upon the announcement that the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants had refused to recognize and finance the fight against the Northeastern company. As this society is one of the strongest labor organizations in England, it was at once predicted that the northeastern strikers would be unable to carry their point without aid. This apparently proved true and the situation which was fast demoralizing the industries dependent upon the northeastern line was ended.

The settlement of the strike came just in time to effect great relief to shippers, as well as to the employes of many industries which were forced to shut down. The loss in perishable goods through the tie up of the railroads was great while 50,000 workers in collieries, ship yards, iron works and other industries had been rendered idle. These will go back to work at once on the opening of the railroad traffic.

FIGHTING AMONG TRIBES.

Has Broken Out in Liberia—Cruiser to the Scene.

Washington, July 21.—Severe fighting among the tribes of Liberia in the vicinity of Cape Thomas has broken out again. Commander John Luby, of the cruiser Des Moines, which cleared for Monrovias today for the Canary Islands, reported to the Navy Department that the Liberian troops have been signally defeated in an effort to quell the uprising. Commander Luby reported four cases of blackwater fever aboard the Des Moines.

MOONSHINE STILL WRECKED

Found Near Home of Man Who Almost Became the Sheriff.

Nashville, July 21.—A dispatch from Anniston, Alabama, says that United States revenue officers have returned from Cleburne county after having destroyed one of the largest moonshine stills that have been located in years in the home of Charles Pesnell, one of the fost prominent citizens of the county, who lacked only twenty votes of receiving the nomination for sheriff in the May primary. No arrests were made.

GAYNOR SENTIMENT IN OHIO

Democratic Club Organizer Finds State Not All For Harmon.

Toledo, Ohio, July 21.—While there is sentiment because of State pride for the election of Governor Judson Harmon as the national standard-bearer for the Democratic party in 1912, Robert J. Beatty, of Columbus, general secretary of the National League of Democratic Clubs, who is in Toledo, says that there is a strong undercurrent in favor of the nomination of William J. Gaynor, Mayor of the city of New York.

Beatty is in Toledo for the purpose of furthering the organization of county Democratic clubs, with the idea of calling a meeting of the county clubs in Columbus in September for the formation of State organization, this to be united with the national league, which now has 75,000 members. He has visited Cuyahoga, Hamilton and Franklin counties and has organized them, and has found that there is a belief that Mayor Gaynor would make a strong race.

Governor Harmon, he said, is a member of the executive committee of the National League of Democratic Clubs.

HAVE SEVERED RELATIONS.

Southern Pacific Company and Big Steamer Line.

New York, July 21.—Wall street heard today that relations had been severed between the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and the Toyo-Kisen Kaisha, the Japanese corporation which operates the biggest line of steamship between San Francisco relations with one of the Gould lines." and Yokohama. The manager of the Yokohama' specie bank in this city said:

"I believe the report is substantially correct. I have no official confirmation of it yet, but many circumstances lead be to believe it is true. I believe the Toy-Kisen Kaisha will establish relations with one of the Gould lines.

President Lovett of the Harriman lines said: "I must decline to discuss the matter."

The banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Company closely related with the late E. H. Harriman and formerly fiscal agent for the Japanese government in this country, sent out word that in the absence of all the particulars there was no one qualified to discuss the rumor for them.

MAY GOBBLE SUBURBS

Birmingham Likely to Have Population of More Than 880,000.

London, July 21.—Great interest attaches to the Provisional Order bill enlarging the boundaries of the city of Birmingham so as to include under a single administration the great urban area whose economic life centres in the city. If the proposals of that bill become law the city of Birmingham will include a population of 880,000, an area of 40,000 acres, and a rateable value of over $21,000,000.

The size and wealth of the city will correspond to the great reputation it already enjoys, and Birmingham will become in fact as well as in name the second city of the empire. The attainment of that distinction is, however, in no way the motive of the great scheme now put forward; it is only an incidental result.

A SPORTSMAN PASSES.

Geo. Watson, Jr., Well Known Horse Breeder, is Dead.

Pittsburg, July 21.—George Watson, Jr., the 24-year-old son of the well known New York horse breeder and sportsman of that name, and himself widely known as an entrant in horse shows, died at the homeopathic hospital tonight from injuries received nearly a month ago when thrown from his favorite mount "Initial." He came to Pittsburg with a big string of horses which won several awards in the recent Sewickley Heights Horse Show. Later, while riding at the Haskaway Hunt Club, in McDonald, his horse stumbled and fell upon him. The rider suffered a fracture of the pelvis. It was not until yesterday, however, that it was learned that fatal complications had set in. His father, mother and sister were at the bedside when he died tonight.

COMPLAINT AGAINST RATES.

Rockingham Acts Against the Coast Line and Seaboard.

Washington, July 21.—That satisfactory through routes and joint rates between Rockingham, N. C., and various points in South Carolina not only do not exist, but are refused by the railroads is the burden of a complaint filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission. The complaint was instituted by the Manufacturers' Freight Department, of Rockingham, N. C., representing the cotton mills at that place against the Seaboard Air Line Railway and the Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company. It is alleged that the rates charged by the carriers on cotton piece goods from Rockingham to points in South Carolina are unreasonable and discriminatory because the railroads refuse to establish through routes and joint rates. The commission is requested to require the railroads to establish through routes and joint rates and schedules of charges that are lower than the present rates.

JEFFRIES ASKED TO MATCH.

Offered Cool $50,000 to Meet Kaufman Before Quaker Club.

San Francisco, July 21.—Word has been flashed by wireless to James J. Jeffries at Catania Island that Billy McCarney, the Philadelphia boxing promoter, is ready to give the former champion $50,000 to appear in a six-round no decision bout with Al Kaufman at one of the Quaker City ball parks on Labor Day.

McCarney is reported to have telegraphed the offer to a friend in this city with instructions to ascertain what the prospects might be to induce Jeffries to enter the ring with the other Californian.

It is further reported that Jeffries can choose between the lump sum or take 40 per cent. of the gross receipts.

tion according to the Democratic plan of organization and with a perfect fairness and justice to all. He was received with loud acclaim. The convention was then declared ready for business at 8:15 P. M. and nominations were declared in order. Bladen yielded to Columbus and H. L. Lyon, Esq., gracefully presented the name of Hon. O. L. Clark, of Bladen, Hon. N. A. Sinclair in a fine speech, calling for united effort, nominated Hon. H. L. Cook, of Cumberland. J. O. Carr next paid fine tribute to Herbert McClammy, Esq., of New Hanover, and placed his name before the convention. When Robeson was called R. C. Lawrence, Esq., called on Col. N. A. McLean to nominate the Hon. A. J. McKinnon, of Robeson, which he did, addressing both chairmen and speaking with eloquence and a brilliance that is all his own. He pleaded for harmony and asked Harnett to reconsider its action in declining to participate in the deliberations.

When Harnett county was called J. C. Clifford, Esq., said he considered the procedure out of order since nominations had not been called for, referring presumably to the deposed chairman. At the proper time, he said, he would present Harnett's candidate. Ricaud, of New Hanover, made the point that Harnett by refusing to participate could not later take part. The chairman ruled that delegates were present from Harnett and desired to vote and, if so, they would be granted that privilege. Seconding speeches were next made. E. F. McCulloch for Clark; John D. Bellamy for Herbert McClammy, Esq., Mr. Patterson for Mr. McKinnon and Mr. J. B. Underwood for Mr. Cook.

Balloting was then begun, accompanied by much confusion, the Godwin men declining to participate in some instances, the vote being cast in some instances, however, by minority delegates. Chairman L. S. Frefel, of Brunswick, however, cast the Godwin vote regularly, after a minority delegate had cast it all for McClammy. Chairman McLeod, of the Robeson delegation, declined to cast the Godwin vote and it was cast in accordance with the county convention by R. C. Lawrence, Esq. Owing to the confusion and the fractions it was impossible to tabulate the vote and there was another ballot called, the Robeson and Harnett majority chairman declining to cast the vote and this being cast by the minority. The first ballot was announced as follows:

Bladen—Clark 17.98; Godwin 6.02

Brunswick—Clark .19; McClammy .63; Godwin 12.12; Cook .06.

Columbus—Clark 15.10; McClammy .15; Godwin 25.60; McKinnon .15.

Cumberland—Cook 40.00.

Harnett—Clark .90; McClammy .05; Godwin 25.70; Cook 1.20; McKinnon 3.05; J. A. Brown .10.

New Hanover—McClammy 42.00.

Robeson—Clark .34; Godwin 45.85; Cook .11; McKinnon 13.70.

On the second ballot L. R. Parker, of Cumberland, made a demand that his delegation be polled but the chair ruled that the delegation was uninstructed and had elected to cast 40 votes for Cook. The chairman having refused to cast Robeson's vote, Mr. Lawrence cast the Godwin strength after first ballot for McKinnon, the result being as follows: Clark 34.51; McClammy 42.80; Godwin 69.44; Cook 41.36; McKinnon 62.85; Brown .10. There was no change on the third ballot and Mr. McLeod, of Robeson, stated that his delegation desired no vote to be cast for Godwin. Joe Underwood admonished him then to go off and hold a convention of his own. The fourth and fifth ballots brought no changes.

The Lumina orchestra came in the hall and highly elated the convention with a spirited rendition of "There's Going to be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," which gave way to "Dixie" and threw the convention into wild applause. The sixth ballot was called and Chairman Fetel, of Brunswick, declined to cast any further votes for his county, a minority delegate casting 11 for McClammy and one for Cook. Mr. Parker insisted on his representation and was given a fraction of a vote for Godwin, but this did not satisfy him and he demanded a roll call. There were a large number of absentees among the 107 delegates from the county. The sixth ballot resulted as follows: Clark 31.32, McClammy 53.20, Godwin 58.32, Cook 41.31, McKinnon 62.85, Brown .10. At this juncture Mr. Smith, of Harnett, was granted three minutes for a caucus of its delegates. The deposed chairman Bellamy at 10 o'clock retired from the chair he had occupied at the rear of the stand since early afternoon. The seventh ballot was called and Brunswick changed her vote to 9 for McClammy, 2 for Clark and 1 for Cook. Columbus asked to be passed. The .95 of a vote from Cumberland was cast by Mr. Parker for Clark. Columbus after having been passed, made no change. The seventh ballot brought no change: Clark 43.29, McClammy 51.20, Godwin 51.30, Cook 42.51, McKinnon 62.60, Brown .10. There was only sligtht change in the eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh ballots. The 12th and 13th ballots were called, Columbus retiring for caucus on the latter, but no change having resulted: Clark 40.54, McClammy 54.25, Godwin 51.30, Cook 42.31, McKinnon 62.60. The 15th ballot Clark 39.69, McClammy 42.15, Godwin 60.25, Cook 41.31, McKinnon 67.60. On the next ballot Brunswick cast her 13 votes for Cook to 59.16. The 17th ballot resulted Clark 38.64, McClammy 43.15, Godwin 37.55, Cook 71.96, McKinnon 59.70. On the next ballot McKinnon went to 70.55 but there was no other appreciable change.

The 19th ballot was taken at a quarter to 12 o'clock, the convention showing signs of weariness. The result showed no material change and there were rumors of a dark horse, it being said that Robeson, Harnett and Columbus would probably unite on Jos. A. Brown, of Columbus. The 20th ballot resulted: Clark 49.64, McClammy 43.15, Godwin 37.55, Cook 49.96, McKinnon 70.70. On the next ballot Harnett threw 16 to McKinnon and the result was an increase of McKinnon's vote to 75.35. On the 24th ballot, New Hanover gave 10 to Clark, 10 to Cook and 22 for McClammy, the result being Clark 72.44, McClammy 22.15, Godwin 26.55, Cook 54.16, McKinnon 75.70. A complimentary vote was given by New Hanover to McKinnon on the 26th ballot.

At 12:30 o'clock H. L. Lyon asked for a ruling of the chair, on the question of an instructed delegation changing its vote. The chair ruled that it would require two-thirds of the delegates of any candidate to change the vote. The next ballot was called and Columbus made no change. McKinnon's strength going to 85.70 on this ballot, receiving 16 from Harnett and a complimentary vote from New Hanover.

On the 31st ballot at 12:45 o'clock the Columbus vote was protested and a poll of the delegation was had with the result that 29 answered, 24 of whom were for Clark and five were for Godwin. C. D. Koonce made the point that the alternates should be allowed to represent some of the absentees. The chair ruled that was a matter for the delegation and the 31st ballot was announced as follows: Clark 60.34; McClammy 42; Godwin 16; Cook 53.41; McKinnon 79.55. On the next ballot Brunswick cast 13 for John Underwood and Harnett gave 31 for McClammy, running his vote to 73, the highest point reached. On the next ballot Cumberland gave Clark a complimentary vote and Harnett cast its solid vote for him, running the Bladen candidate's strength to 103.35, the highest vote received by any candidate except Godwin.

On the next ballot Columbus, Brunswick and Harnett gave their entire strength to Clark, running his vote on this ballot to 109.34.

On the next ballot McKinnon went to 100.55, all the delegations indulging in some flirting with their sister counties. On the 41st ballot McClammy's strength reached the high water mark in 111 and a fraction. On the 43rd ballot Robeson cast her 60 votes for Clark and the convention went wild with enthusiasm for Clark. Columbus asked for a few minutes to caucus and the situation was tense. It was then 1:15 o'clock and when the cheering had ceased Columbus cast 41 for Clark.

Before the vote was completed Clark was brought into the hall and the vote was announced as follows: Clark 169; McClammy 42 and Cook 40. Mr. Clark was declared the nominee and upon motion of New Hanover the nomination was made unanimous. Mr. Clark was brought forward and addressed the convention, thanking his friends for their support and paying a high tribute to the Democracy of the Sixth District. Major A. J. McKinnon was also escorted to the front and responded gracefully to calls for a speech Herbert McClammy, Esq., of New Hanover, was also called out and spoke eloquently and gracefully, paying high tribute to Mr. Clark and receiving an ovation at the hands of the convention.

E. G. Davis, Esq., of Cumberland, responded for Mr. Cook. There were loud calls for Mr. Godwin, but no response. The chairman then asked all delegations to be seated and the election of a Congressional executive committee was proceeded with, the various delegations naming the following: Bladen, J. Bayard Clark; Brunswick, A. S. Kirby; Columbus, R. E. L. Brown; Cumberland, E. G. Davis; Harnett, E. S. Smith; New Hanover, W. E. Springer; Robeson, Frank Gough.

The convention adjourned sine die at 1:45 A. M. and the executive committee organized by electing Wm. E. Springer, chairman and E. G. Davis, secretary.

Insurgent convention held immediately after the adjournment sine die, Chairman Geo. H. Bellamy called the "insurgent" faction together as stated above. A majority of both factions remained in the hall and it required the services of the police to quiet the tumult. The various Godwin men on the delegations, except New Hanover and Cumberland counties, then passed up their nominations for credentials and platform committees. These were asked by Mr. Clifford to meet immediately after an adjournment which was taken until 10 o'clock this morning.

BECAUSE HIS CHICKENS CROW.

Dr. George T. Winston Sued by Millionaire Howland.

Asheville, July 21.—The crowing before day of the chickens of Dr. George T. Winston, ex-president of the University of North Carolina, of the University of Texas and a beneficiary of the Carnegie Fund, today caused a warrant to be issued for him by Police Judge Cocke on the complaint of the son of R. H. Howland, a millionaire of Rhode Island, former owner of the Providence Journal, who has a fine estate here adjoining the Winston place.

No law could be found to prohibit chickens from crowing, so Howland invoked a State law which provides that if the owner of chickens allows them to go on the premises of another after warning the Court shall send an officer to shoot them.

Howland claims the Winston chickens arose before day and flew on the porches of his cottage and made such a noise the tenants threatened to leave.

Dr. Winston declares the cottage tenants are Christian Scientists and ought to regard the crowing as something which really does not exist except in their imaginations. Constable Jones is running for re-election and, fearing to offend voters, plays safe by asserting he is too poor a shot to hit even ostriches.

Washington, July 21.—Identified as a negro wanted in Georgia to a charge of burglary and robbing cars. Oscar Wright, arrested here several weeks ago on the charge of obbing a grocery store, was turned over today to J. P. Minor, deputy sheriff of Fulton county, Georgia, to be taken to Atlanta.

DRASTIC CHANGE IN RULES.

Colored Mine Workers Not to be Allowed to Perform Certain Duties.

Johannesburg, July 21.—The commission on mining regulations have drafted some very important proposals applying to all mines in the Transvaal, which they will recommend to the government.

One suggestion is that only white men shall in future receive blasting certificates and that only competent white men shall be allowed to be in charge of boilers, engines and machinery. The existing rules draw no color line and a number of colored men now hold certificates.

Stringent regulations are proposed to safeguard the health of the men underground. All duty rock must be damped, and no person suffering from tuberculosis or disease of the respiratory organs shall be permitted to work underground.

Some suggestions made with the idea of preventing accidents lay down the principle that no incompetent or inexperienced man shall be allowed to take part in dangerous work. The hours of work underground are limited to eight aday, exclusive of the time occupied in reaching work and returning to the surface.

If adopted, these regulations will have a most important effect upon the mines of the Rand from the standpoint of the white miners.

STOP COTTON FRAUDS.

London Bankers Adopt Resolutions Regarding Bills of Lading.

London, July 21.—At a meeting of bankers of London today a resolution was adopted and cabled to the leading American bankers to the effect that beginning in November American cotton bills of lading shall be negotiated only when they are guaranteed by and American banking institution.

The meeting followed the report of a committee recently appointed to inquire into the cotton trade situation. The committee made its investigation as a result of the discovery at Liverpool last April of irregularities in the bills of lading on American cotton.

IRREGULAR DAY FOR COTTON

Conflicting Reports on the Market as to Both Crop and Trade Conditions—New Crops Firm. Opening Steady.

New York, July 21.—The cotton market was more or less irregular today in line with conflicting reports as to both the crop and trade conditions, but generally speaking demand showed a tendency to increase on moderate declines, and the close was very steady, net 2 points lower to 4 points higher; new crops being relatively firm. The opening was steady at an advance of 6 to 10 points and prices held up to a net gain of 10 to 14 points during covering movement and fresa buyin for long account inspired by better cables than expected and the unfavorable average of private crop accounts from the Eastern belt. The bull leaders gave the old crop positions some support, but the demand for the later months was not particularly aggressive and as soon as the market began to hesitate as a result of dealing local professionals started selling on more favorable crop reports from Texas and Oklahoma. After easing off to about the closing figures of yesterday under this pressure the market steadied to a net gain of some 2 to 6 points on trade buying, but reached the lowest point of the day a little later in the afternoon under Wall Street selling attributed to weakness in the stock market. Some 3 or 4 points under the final figures of yesterday, however, there was a renewal of shorts covering and bull support with active months closing several points up from the lowest.

Receipts of cotton at the ports today 7,998 bales against 6,076 last week and 2,183 last year; for the week 40,000 bales against 37,541 last week and 18,571 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 1,025 bales against 704 last year, and at Houston 297 bales against 23 bales last year.

Spot closed quiet 10 points decline; middling uplands 16.00; middling gulf 16.25. Sales 10,645 bales.

Cotton futures opened steady and closed very steady.

Advance Lost After Some Active Trading—Cables Were Better.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, July 21.—Advices from abroad were much better than expected, Liverpool higher and Manchester firmer. On this the opening was good, but after some active trading the advance was lost and the market became easier and dull the obstacle to the advance being the ideal weather conditions, the most satisfactory for some weeks. This deters would-be buyers. The bull clique are still vigilant, but has few new followers and support appears necessary to encourage further buying. Should the weather continue favorable the trade apparently would incline to the short side. The bureau report of August 2nd is now talked about.

SOME ACTIVITIES IN STOCKS

New York, July 21.—Until the reduction in the dividend of National Lead was announced, the stock market today was a humdrum affair. The news of this action created some speculative excitement and its influence was reinforced by the wholly unsupported state for the stock in the market.

Sales of 100 share lots could be effected only at rapid concessions of 1 to 1 1-2 points between sales. Closing last night at 69 3-8, the stock sold as low as 52. The effect on speculative sentiment and on the stock market position was enhanced by the use made for two days of vaguely defined rumors of steps taking to better the copper trade position to push up the price of the metal industrials. The suspicion on the part of buyers of these stocks that they had been duped or that a contest between copper trade forces was being waged that threatened the success of any effort to secure agreement in the trade prompted a heavy throwing over of the metal industrials and the whole list was brought into the scope of the influence. American Smelting showed the effect of the large financial interests common to the two companies in its close sympathy with National Lead and Copper securities naturally affected quite acutely. The advance in the price of National Lead preferred in face of the demoralization in the common stock was a commentary on the increased benefit of conserving earnings for the senior security. The simple explanation offered for the reduced dividend was that business and earnings did not warrant the maintenance of the higher rate.

The earlier felt influences in the market dropped out of sight in the excitement which followed the National Lead dividend action. The Copper curtailment rumors retained some vitality in the early dealings and gave the coppers some power of resistance to the general drooping tendency. The action of the wheat and cotton markets revived uneasiness over the crop prospects, and the effect of the later easing of the wheat market was lost in the general weakness of stocks. Government disbursements through the sub-treasury continue to add large amounts to the cash holdings of the banks, the gain from that source since the last bank statement having risen to $7,505,000.

Time money is growing easier and the foreign exchange market was firm today. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value $1,009,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales stocks for the day 528,500 shares.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, July 21.—Corn led the entire speculative trade on 'Change here today. Transactions in that cereal reached huge proportions. Excitement because of fear that dry weather might ruin the growing grain was the sole cause. The scare resulted in a net advance of 1 3-4 to 2 1-4 to 3-8 a bushel in the price of the yellow Kernels and apparently saved wheat from a sharp decline. Closing for the latter staple were irregular, 1-2 to 5-8c higher to 3-8. Provisions were unchanged to 12 1-2c up.

RAWN FIGURES IN SCANDAL.

Killed Himself, It Is Believed, on Eve of Possible Exposure.

Chicago, July 21.—Death came to Ira G. Rawn, president of the Monon Railroad, supposedly from a bullet fired by himself, but certainly on the eve of possible exposure as a central figure of what is declared may be one of the greatest railway scandals of the country.

Counsel for the Illinois Railway when confronted today with a verbatem copy of the recent investigation of the company's affairs admitted that the foundation had been laid with the attempt to show Mr. Rawn as primarily responsible for years of crookedness in car contracts. His answers, however, had been steadfast denials of the implied charges.

The ads will show you whether or not there's a chance today to buy that piece of furniture at your price.

WHAT CONSTITUTES WHISKEY?

Complete Agreement and Now Awaits Approval of Attorney General.

Washington, July 21.—A complete agreement has been reached regarding the way in which molasses-made whiskey, regarding the way marked by internal revenue officials and all that is now necessary is the perfunctory approval of Acting Attorney General Fowler. This arrangement, effected through conferences of Mr. Fowler, Commissioner of Internal Revenue Cabell and counsel for the molasses interests, will be in effect during the pendency of the litigation over the injunction granted by the New Orleans courts against the enforcement of the President's ruling on what constitutes whiskey.

The present proceedings do not involve the volume of revenue in any way, but involve complexities of law and regulation concerning internal revenue classification.

ARRESTED AT TEDDY'S HOME.

Armenian Priest Not Allowed to See the Colonel.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 21.—In response to a telephone message from Sagamore Hill, Charles Townsend, constable of Oyster Bay, hurried to ex-President Roosevelt's home in an automobile today and took in charge the Rev. George Nathaniel, an Armenian priest, about 50 years old. When the constable arrived at Sagamore Hill he found Noah Seaman, superintendent of Col. Roosevelt's estate and a negro servant guarding the man.

The constable and Seasan put him in the automobile, brought him back to Oyster Bay and placed him on a train for New York. Mr. Nathaniel said he lived at 1012 Locust street, Philadelphia, and that he was an archdeacon of the Armenian Protestant church. Mr. Nathaniel wanted Mr. oRosevelt to subscribe $5,000 for a hospital in the Holy Land. He tried in vain to see Col. Roosevelt at the Outlook office last Tuesday and yesterday the minister came to Oyster Bay. He walked to Sagamore Hill this morning, reached Col. Roosevelt's home without being stopped and rang the bell. His speech and appearance aroused the suspicion of the butler, who refused to let him see the Colonel.

Mr. Nathaniel said that he would make another effort to see Col. Roosevelt in New York tomorrow.

Col. Roosevelt knew nothing of the visit of Mr. Nathaniel until several hours after the clergyman had left town. He spent the day preparing speeches for his Western trip, and trying to make a little headway with his correspondence.

PRESIDENT TAFT IN MAINE

Speaks at Bar Harbor Today—Social Visits.

Bar Harbor, Maine, July 21.—President Taft will speak on the village green here tomorrow at noon and have a chance to see the year-round residents of this famous watering place, and to be seen by them. Until Mr. Taft's intention to do this was announced today, war clouds were gathering fast between the Maine citizens and the members of the fashionable Summer colony, whose plans for the entertainment of the chief magistrate and the members of his yachting party failed to include any concessions to the village folk of whom there are about 5,000.

The President was informed of the situation today by J. P. Bass, of Bangor, and at once consented the suggestion that he make a little speech to the villagers. The details were quickly arranged and placards announcing the event soon were posted at every vantage point and in all but the ultra-fashionable shop windows.

The select men, the ruling powers of the township, were inclined to be a little sulkey when they first heard of the plan. First select men J. E. Bunker, Jr., voiced the sentiment of his associates when he declared that a telegram had been sent to the President at Eastport and that as no acceptance of the invitation to speak had been received the "town fathers" felt there was no more for them to do and they were through with the matter. However, they thought that as long as the advances had come from the other side" they would be glad to have the people see and hear the President. Tonight the threatened clouds had all rolled away and there was quite a lot of enthusiasm. Social affairs and golf occupied the President's day. He had a buck-board ride out to Jordan Pond, a nine mile drive from here tonight for a "shore supper" of lobster and other sea dainties.

The most exciting indicent of the President's cruise thus far was the rescue of two Indians who capsized their canoe while the Mayflower was at anchor in Passamoquoddy Bay. They had paddled out to have a close look at the President's big white yacht. Mr. Taft was on deck. The Indians stood up to have a better look and a moment later there was a splash, an overturned canoe and two hats floating on the water. The cry of "man overboard" rang from one end of the yacht to the other. The boatswains shrill whistle piped the men of the crew to the life boats. The President called out for sometning to be thrown to the men at once.

By this time the men were on the surface. One clutched the canoe while the other was making an effort to reach the Mayflower. Boats were quickly lowered and the indians were hauled out little the worse for their wetting. A passing row boat took them ashore.

DAMAGES BY FOREST FIRES.

Aggregate Loss of Present Week is Estimated at Fully $1,000,000

Victoria, B. C., July 21.—General reports from all parts of British Columbia confirmed by dispatches to Premier McBride, Land Minister Ellison and other officials at the capital place the aggregate loss of the present week by forest fires at not less than $1,000,000, while fully half a million more will be lost in the enforced suspension of affected industries.

target practice at floating targets, which were built to the proportions of battleships. The firing was prosecuted as nearly as possible under battle conditions and the shooting was on a more pretentious scal than ever has been attempted before.

Speculation As To Cause.

Washington, July 21.—Lieutenant George L. VanDeusen, who was injured at Fortress Monroe was appointed to the artillery less than a week ago. He formerly had been an officer in the 18th Infantry, but resigned and was re-appointed to the army from civil life.

In the absence of any report from an official investigating board, officers of the coast artillery can only compare the explosion to some similar ones which have occurred in the navy. The majority, however, appear to believe that the explosion was caused by carbon monoxide, a highly inflammable gas which forms in the barrels of large guns and which is especially dangerous during rapid firing.

The gun crew at Fortress Monroe was trying to make a rapid fire record. The theory is that the new charge of powder was hurried into the breach before the gas generated by the previous shot had time to dissipate and before the breech could be closed the powder exploded, blowing off the block and carrying death with it.

There have been five gun accidents in the navy which may be compared to it. In chronological order they were: On the Massachusetts when a primer exploded prematurely; on the Missouri when a flare-back occurred; the Kearsarge, when an electric wire melted some fuses in the turrets and dropped molten lead on bags of powder; on the Georgia when there was a flare-back and on the Charleston, caused by a broken firing pin.

A gun has been developed in the navy which automatically clears its barrel of monoxride as the breech is opened. No such arrangement was on the coast defense guns at Fort Monroe.

Many officers of the army and navy staff had gone from here to be present at the target practice. Major General Leonard Wood, the new chief of staff of the army, was expecting to go direct from New York to Norfolk, but at the last moment changed his plans and returned to Washington. He had just reached his desk when news of the disaster reached Washington. He directed an immediate inquiry and the war office was soon getting the details from Fortress Monroe over the long distance telephone.

A board of officers to investigate the accident was immediately ordered and began its work at once.

THE FIRST STATE CENSUS.

Population of Rhode Island Announced—Was Disappointing.

Washington, July 21.—The population of Rhode Island, as announced by the Census Bureau, is 542,674, an increase of 26.6 per cent. as compared with 428,556 in 1900.

Gratifying as is the increase as shown by today's census returns, the first given out for a State, the little commonwealth will be disappointed in any ambition she may have entertained to add to her representation in Congress. The increase amounted to more than 118,000, but this figure is not sufficiently large to insure an additional representative. Thus for at least ten years more the State will be compelled to get on with two members as it has been compelled to do since the apportionment under the first National census in 1790.

By the present system Rhode Island, with 428,556 people in the 12th census, has one representative to each 214,278 persons, an average of about 21,000 above the requirement of 193,000 and this surplus is immaterially increased by today's figures. As now shown, the State has 156,000 more people than are necessary to give two representatives.

The fact that the figures for Rhode Island were announced today does not mean that the totals for other States are to follow quickly. The tabulation work of the census office is not sufficiently advanced to justify any prediction of early returns for the States as a whole.

Rhode Island was expedited for the benefit of the State Legislature, which is to meet next month for the purpose of redividing the State under the new State law, increasing from 72 to 100 the number of members of the Lower House of the Legislature and requiring the election of such members by districts rather than by towns as at present.

SHERIFF KILLED FIVE.

Negroes Advanced on Him to Cut Him Down.

Elliott, Miss., July 21.—Five negroes were killed and two others were fatally wounded today when the seven, taking issue with Deputy Sheriff Sid Cauley, who was endeavoring to take them into custody on a minor charge advanced on the officer with farming implements as weapons and with the avowed intention of "cutting him down."

Bearing a warrant charging the seven with assault, Cauley and two citizens, deputized to arrest him went to the home of Henry Beck, a colored farmer, near Elliott, this afternoon. As the posse approached the negroes ceased their work in the field and grapping pitchforks and other farming tools, made for the deputy. Cauley, however, opened fire with two revolvers before the beligerents came within striking distance and, before the others of the posse had regained their wits, five of the attacking party were dead and the remainder wounded. The deputy surrendered but was released to appear for formal hearing tomorrow.

tle of Moore's Creek.

To revert to the history of that battle, he said, was like carrying coals to Newcastle and like talking war to Hannibal, yet in standing upon the sacred spot made so historic by the valor and heroism of the Cape Fear patriots he could not desist from some reference to an event that must go down in history as the turning event in the war for the independence of America. He referred to the Scotch Highlanders and Lowlanders and their bitter warfare in their native Scotland, leading up to the battle of Culloden when the Highlanders were ignominiously defeated and subsequently were persecuted and men and women and even their children were slaughtered. He told of the unrest which finally drove the Highlanders to seek peace and liberty in America. About 1749 large numbers of them immigrated to America and settled on the Cape Fear, their leader being Donald Macdonald, the hero of Colloden, and among them being the heroine, Flora Macdonald, and her husband, Allen Macdonald.

Mr. Newland declared that he never could understand why the Highlanders, after their persecution in Scotland, came to this country and instead of fighting with the American patriots, remained loyal to the British crown and fought against the Americans. He knew of no reason except their love of their native Scotland instead of love for the crown—the hand that smote them. Nevertheless, when the British proposed to subdue North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, where the fire of independence had been kindled, the Highlanders concentrated an army at Cross Creek, now Fayetteville, and marched for Wilmington to join the Lord Cornwallis forces for the subjugation of the colony. The army of the Highlanders, however, never reached Wilmington. The men of New Hanover, of which Pender was then a part, and the patriots of the Cape Fear country, heard of the intention of Daonld Macdonald and his Highlanders and assembled a force at Moore's Creek to intercept the Highlanders' army, which left Cross Creek confident of easy victory. An army of 1,100 pioneers under General Moore and Cols. Lillington and Caswell fortified themselves on Moore's Creek, where the road to Wilmington crossed, and in the historic battle which was fought the Highlanders were completely routed, the Americans capturing 850 prisoners, 1,500 rifles, 75,000 pounds sterling ($375,000) medicines, wagon train and munitions of war.

After referring to the historic occurrences which took place at the spot in his presence, Mr. Newland declared that it was the victory of the Cape Fear patriots which turned the tide of war and led to American independence, yet when Congress was asked for an appropriation for Moore's Creek battleground the late distinguished Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, remarked, "Why, I never heard of the battle of Moore's Creek. Where is it?" Mr. Newland declared that the historic battle at Moore's Creek where the heroine Flora Macdonald herself rode up and down the Tory lines urging them on and inspiring them to deeds of bravery, nevertheless, was the keystone of American independence. In conclusion, he addressed the young ladies and young men, congratulating them upon being descendants of the heroes of Moore's Creek, some of them springing from both the patriots and the Tories, and he urged them to perpetuate the glorious heritage of their ancestors and emulate them. No people on earth, he declared, should be prouder of their ancestors. He said their posterity consists of noble men and women equal to any on the globe, women as pretty as any in the world, boys as fine as any in the Union, and a country that is unequalled anywhere on earth. The applause which followed indicated how the inspiring words of the speaker were received and the enthusiasm of the young people indicated a spirit that responded to the sentiment of the speaker.

It is impossible to follow Lieutenant Newland further in his splendid address, which called for continued applause and music by the band. President Moore next introduced Dr. John M. Faison, of Faison, Democratic nominee for Congress in the Third District, and the great favor with which he is regarded was manifested by the ovation he received. In a speech lasting 35 minutes the doctor candidate made a stirring talk that met with great applause throughout. It was a patriotic talk, reminding the people of the great war record of their ancestors of the Revolution and Civil wars and urging them to emulate their patriotism and devotion to their country. Incidentally he pointed to the Democratic party as the embodiment of what their ancestors stood for and fought for, a heroism and self-sacrifice that resulted in securing liberty for America. The doctor spoke of the historic battle of Moore's Creek, urged that the history of Col. Alfred Moore Waddell, giving an account of that great event, be studied by North Carolina children who should gain knowledge of the deeds of their ancestors and root their sentiments in their hearts. It was at Moore's Creek, said Dr. Faison, where their ancestors won a great victory with the loss of only one man, John Grady, while they killed 50 or 60 of the Tories and gained gloriously of the spoils of war. He declared that the Federal government owed an appropriation to perpetuate the event at Moore's Creek and pledged himself as the next Congressman from the district, to do his utmost to secure an appropriation to further mark the sacred grounds. He referred to the leading part North Carolina took in the war for independence, the declaration of independence at Charlotte May 20th, 1775, resistance of the stamp act at Wilmington, and the conspicuous part which North Carolina patriots, Cornelius Harnett, and others took in the American cause. He also paid a glowing tribute to the heroism, valor and magnificent war record of Confederate veterans, and glorified the character and leadership of Lee and Jackson, urging the young never to mar the escutcheons of a great ancestry and to stand true to North Carolina and the South, which represent the principles for which liberty was won. The Confederate veterans were greatly moved by the doctor's eloquent words, and three cheers were given after the speech concluded. The next Congressman from the Third District stirred the profoundest sentiment of his hearers, and from start to finish the assemblage showed that it was with him. The doctor spoke rapidly, and made a speech that found lodgment in the hearts of the great mass of people who heard him.

This ended the programme, and following inspiriting music by the band, the people dispersed for dinner. The celebration feast was such as Pender is famous for and when that is said it will be known that it was bounteous and unsurpassed in every particular. The celebration was a tremendous success, and it was immensely enjoyed by all who paid themselves the treat of having attended on such a splendid occasion.

NICARAGUA'S NEW CABINET

Consul Says New Ministry Unfriendly to United States—Number of Zelaya's Former Leaders Appointed.

Washington, July 21.—A new cabinet has been formed in Nicaragua, according to cable advices received here today from Consul Olivares at Managua. Its personnel consists with a single exception of adherents of Zelaya and men who were officials of the former President's government. Consul Olivares strongly intimates that the new ministry is likely to be unfriendly to the United States.

The personnel of the new ministry which was formed following the resignation of Minister General Caico Baco, is as follows: Minister of Government, Maximiliano Morales, sub-secretary of government under Zelaya.

Minister for Foreign Affairs and Public Instruction, Francisco Padilla formerly a minister of finance, but not under Zelaya.

Minister of Finance and Public Credit, Francisco Medina, collector of customs at Corinto, under Zelaya and recently his personal representative in Paris.

Minister of Works—Leon Arcagon, once sub-secretary of public instruction and later mayor of Managua under Zelaya.

Sub-Secretary of War, Benjamin Zelendon, charge d'affaires of Nicaragua in Guatemala under Zelaya and more recently secretary to Julian Irias, commissioner of the Madriz government with plenary powers over the western half of Nicaragua, now in command of the gunboat Venus.

Zeledon's appointment seems to be most significant in a cabinet of Zelaya supporters. Mr. Olivares advised that the new war minister is bitterly anti-American and is the author of a number of incendiary articles against the government of the United States and American interests in general, which have been published recently in the censored press at Managua.

SCANDAL BEHIND FAILURE.

Assertion in Regard to Pillsbury-Washburn Flour Mills.

London, July 21.—At a meeting of the directors of the Pillsbury-Washburn Flour Mills, limited, today the report and accounts of the year were presented and passed, after a stormy session. R. H. Glin, chairman of the board, who presided at the meeting, referred to the appalling loss of $4,000,000, as shown by the report, saying: "It was due partly to gross disobedience and partly to methods which can hardly be called by any name than irregular. The question of restitution proceedings will have to be carefully considered."

John MacDonald Henderson, member of the House of Commons, declared that he was prepared to find the money in his own pocket to probe to the end a situation of affairs which Director Cloutte characterized "as one of the greatest company scandals of modern times."

The Pillsbury-Washburn Flour Mills Company, of Minneapolis, went into the hands of a receiver on August 8, 1908, application being made to the Federal District Court in that city by certain stockholders. It was said at the time that the action was taken for the purpose of re-organization and denial was made that the company was in any serious financial embarrassments. C. S. Pillsbury, A. C. Loring and A. C. Cobb were named receivers.

A scheme of re-organization was adopted in 1909 and has since been carried out under which the unsecured creditors, amounting to about $5,200,000 have been settled with. Under this scheme the mills, trade marks and good will have been leased to an operating company, formed in the United States with a capital of $2,000,000.
